Course Description

In this seminar we shall survey ideas by political thinkers who dealt with the interaction between media of communication and politics since ancient times to the present. The seminar consists of weekly discussions of selected writings and of student presentations of their seminar paper, due on the last day of the seminar.

Course Objectives

The seminar is devoted to in-depth understanding of the role of communication media in forming, reforming and destroying political systems.

Internet and electronic communication device information

The use of electronic communication devices is not allowed. Laptops can be used for note taking only.

Assignments and Evaluation

For the paper (20 pages) every student will choose a political regime, movement, leader or event – historical or contemporary – and analyze the role played by one medium (newspaper, novel, pamphlet, radio, TV, theatre, cinema, blogs, Facebook, Twitter, mobile phone, etc.) or a combination of several media in its origin, its development and in its aftermath. The paper will be presented in class. All assignments must be completed or a grade of F may be assigned at the discretion of the instructor. It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment. Note: please hand in your papers in hard copy directly to your instructor at the beginning of the last session of the seminar.

Registrar's- scheduled exam: No

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. In-text citations must be provided, and readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. Wording taken directly from a source must be enclosed within quotation marks (or, for long quotations, presented in the format prescribed by the documentation style you are using). Paraphrased information must not follow the original wording and sentence structure with only slight word substitutions here and there. These requirements apply to all assignments and sources, including those in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media.

For information on citation and documentation styles (including APA, Chicago, IEEE, MLA, and others), visit the links provided at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/node/208> . If you have questions about how to document sources, please consult your instructor or the Writing Centre (3rd Floor TFDL, <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support>).

Academic Misconduct

For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please see the University of Calgary Calendar at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>

Research Ethics

Whenever you perform research with human participants (i.e. surveys, interviews, observation) as part of your university studies, you are responsible for following university research ethics guidelines. Your instructor must review and approve of your research plans and supervise your research. For more information about your research ethics responsibilities, see <http://arts.ucalgary.ca/research/research/research-ethics>
