Course Description

Forms and concepts in Canadian art from 1900 to the present; the Group of Seven, Nationalism, Regionalism and more recent developments in Canadian art.

Prerequisites &/or Co-requisites

Art History 201 and 203.

Objectives of the Course

Students who successfully complete this course will:

1. demonstrate understanding of the production, circulation, and exhibition of art and cultural objects in a consideration of Canada after 1900;
2. contextualize art and cultural objects as they relate to the social, political, economic, and cultural circumstances of twentieth and twenty-first century Canada;
3. develop and defend evaluations of art and cultural objects of post-1900 Canada using informed experiential and theoretical knowledge;
4. undertake critical evaluations of modern and contemporary Canadian art and cultural objects in relation to the construction and maintenance of historically specific categories, such as gender, race, class, and nation;
5. articulate assessments of art and cultural objects produced in the territory of Canada after 1900 in both written and verbal discussions;
6. and understand the contingency of creating history and knowledge, and be open to critical self-reflection.

Textbooks and Readings

The majority of readings are in a textbook and course pack, both of which are required for the course and can be purchased at the University of Calgary Bookstore. The textbook is also available as an e-book through the library. Additional required readings are available online.

In the week-to-week breakdown found below, these online readings are highlighted and include the web link. The links are also available through the course's D2L page.

Textbook: John O'Brien and Peter White (Eds.). 2007. Beyond Wilderness: The Group of Seven, Canadian Identity, and Contemporary Art. Montreal and Kingston: McGill-Queen's University Press.

Writing/Plagiarism

Writing skills are not exclusive to English courses and, in fact, should cross all disciplines. The University supports the belief that throughout their University careers, students should be taught how to write well so that when they graduate their writing abilities will be far above the minimal standards required at entrance. Consistent with this belief, students are expected to do a substantial amount of writing in their University courses and, where appropriate, members of faculty can and should use writing and the grading thereof as a factor in the evaluation of student work. The services provided by the Writing Support Services can be utilized by all undergraduate and graduate students who feel they require further assistance.

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. Visual art projects submitted for course credit must be produced by the student specifically for this class. Students must not submit projects if credit has or will be provided for it in another class. This includes re-worked assignments from previous or concurrent courses, unless permission is provided in writing by the instructor. Additionally, the student is asked to be mindful of using visual sources from the internet, ensuring that that material is not derived from any on-line or other available source, and that appropriate copyright permission is granted, when required.

Lockers

The Art Building lockers are administered through the Student's Union's used bookstore, Bound and Copied. Lockers are rented on a first come, first served basis. Due to the shortage of lockers, and the high demand, students cannot hold more than one locker at a time. All of the details on renting a locker and your responsibilities can be found on the Locker Rental Agreement at https://www.su.ucalgary.ca/wp-content/uploads/2014/08/locker_rental_agreement_2010.pdf

Lockers for all sessions can be rented through my.ucalgary.ca. Once you're in the Student Centre, click on Other Academic Services and choose Locker Reservation.

Lockers must be vacated by the end of term.

For more information go to <http://www.su.ucalgary.ca/>

Assignments and/or Portfolios

The Department of Art will not assume responsibility for lost or stolen course work or portfolios given to instructors for grading, or for work posted on bulletin boards in the art building.

Ethics

Whenever you perform research with human participants (i.e., surveys, interviews or observation) as part of your university studies, you are responsible for following university research ethics guidelines.

Your instructor must review and approve of your research plans and supervise your research.
