Assignments (Except Final Poster): 70%
Final Poster Assignment: 21%
Quizzes: 9%

Note: It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment. Please hand in your assignments directly to the Dropbox cloud service folder created for your section. Except in highly unusual circumstances, assignments cannot be turned in late for credit. Deadlines are firm; late assignments will not be accepted without prior negotiation with the instructor, or with documented illnesses or family emergencies. Documented means a fully explanatory note from an appropriate authority, e.g., physician or counselor. In all cases where students do not turn in work on time, a grade of zero will be entered into the gradebook for that assignment. Do not email assignments except by prior arrangement with the instructor; these must be uploaded to the digital dropbox.

Email Policy: Students are encouraged to contact the instructor in person: before or after class, or during office hours. Contacting the instructor via email is permissible, but due to the volume of mail received, may not be answered in a timely fashion. If you should use email, please include “ART 253” at the beginning of the subject line.

Registrar-Scheduled Final Exam – No.

Additional Information

All students will be required to set up an account with the Dropbox online storage service: this will be the primary method of submitting work to the instructor. Information about the service is available at <http://dropbox.com>.

Students will be expected to print their final assignment on 13”x19” paper in the computer lab in the Art Parkade, as well as at least one 8.5”x11” proof. Students should therefore expect to spend between twenty and thirty dollars on printing during the course.

Students will be expected to have a memory key / jumpdrive of at least 4 GB capacity, and to save their work both in their Dropbox account and on the memory key. Losing a file due to file storage errors is not a valid excuse for not turning homework in.

Grading Method/Grading Scale:

Writing/Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. Readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. This includes assignments submitted in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media, and material taken from such sources. Please consult your instructor or Writing Support Services (at the Student Success Centre) if you have any questions regarding how to document sources.

Please write down the barcode numbers (top left of each locker) for the locker shape that you require and bring this list with you to the SU office between 8:30a.m. and 4:30p.m., Monday-Friday. Lockers must be vacated by the end of term.

Portfolios and Assignments

The Department of Art will not assume responsibility for lost or stolen portfolios or course work given to instructors for grading, or for work posted on bulletin boards in the art building.

All unclaimed work will be disposed of two weeks after the end of classes.

Ethics

Whenever you perform research with human participants (i.e., surveys, interviews or observation) as part of your university studies, you are responsible for following university research ethics guidelines. Your instructor must review and approve of your research plans and supervise your research.
