Course Description

This course offers an introduction to the social, political, economic, and cultural aspects of new media. New media will first be situated historically and set up as manifestations of different kinds of power. Topics to be examined include the defining characteristics of new media in relation to networked infrastructure, visual culture and representation, identities, audiences, political engagement, and regulatory frameworks. Toward the conclusion of the course, these elements will be brought together through case studies of specific new media forms: social media platforms, mobile applications, and digital games. The overarching goal of the course is to provide students with the opportunity, through lectures and labs, to gain a broad understanding of new media as a terrain marked by diverse struggles for communication power.

Additional Information

Please be aware that much of this course deals with the artifacts, experiences, and products of new media culture. As such, some of the material we study manifests coarse language, sexuality, and violence. If this is a problem for you, please see the instructor, and think carefully about whether this particular course is the best fit for you.

This course is comprised of both lectures and lab sessions, where students will be responsible for participating in discussion and working as part of a smaller group. Regular attendance is expected and participation in labs will be crucial. Readings must be completed in advance of class, and students are expected to participate fully in group discussions of all assigned readings.

Objectives of the Course

COMS 203 has the following major objectives:

1. To provide you with the basis to identify, analyze and evaluate the social factors influencing the design and use of new media;

2. To encourage critical thinking about new media’s historical development and its broader role in society, economics, politics, and culture;
3. To provide you with the opportunity to discuss how the course material relates to everyday new media cultures through written assignments as well as lab activities and group discussion;
4. To help prepare you for further undergraduate study.

Textbooks and Readings

The required textbook for the course is New Media: An Introduction, Second Canadian Edition by Terry Flew and Richard Smith (Oxford University Press, 2014). Copies are available for purchase at the campus bookstore, and there are also reserve copies held at the library. A schedule of assigned readings from the textbook as well as from online sources will be posted to D2L the week before class begins.

Internet and electronic communication device information

Laptops are permitted for note taking only. iPods, cellphones and gaming devices may not be used at all during class. Please respect the instructor and your fellow students. Improper use of electronic devices will impact your participation grade.

Assignments and Evaluation

Overall Grade Breakdown:

Participation:	Weekly in labs	10%
Reflection Paper:	February 1	20%
Mid-term Test	February 29	20%
Ignite Presentation:	March 18, April 1 & 8	15%
Final Exam:	April exam period	35%

Participation (10%, weekly in labs):

Labs inherently require active participation in both activities and group discussion. Participation is not measured solely by how often you speak up. Informed, thoughtful contributions to discussion are more important than frequent contributions. An ability to demonstrate familiarity with the required readings is also crucial. Attentive listening matters – students who interrupt others, distract their classmates, or use electronic devices in a way that distracts the instructor or other students will see an impact on their participation grade. Students are also expected to participate by engaging with the presentations of fellow students by attending presentations, asking questions, and offering thoughtful and constructive commentary.

Reflection Paper (20%, February 1, 600-900 words or 2-3 pages):

Using essay format – structured by a central argument – reflect on your relationship to a particular example of new media. This will be a personal reflection that: 1) describes in detail the specific, unique ways in which you use the new media example, and 2) applies concepts from the course to your example in order to critique your own reflection about new media. The idea is to question your initial assumptions about new media by viewing your example through alternative frameworks presented in the lectures and/or the readings. You will be expected to reference two or more of the authors discussed on the course. Make sure to have a thesis statement guiding the essay's argument, and structure it with a clear introduction, body, and conclusion.

Mid-term Test (20%, February 29, 50 minutes):

In the first half of lecture on February 29, students will complete a mid-term test that covers all course material up to (but not including) that date. The test will feature a mix of multiple choice, short answer questions, and one long answer question. All of the questions will pertain to material from the textbook and lectures, testing students' understanding of the ideas presented in the course so far.

Ignite Presentation (15%, March 18, April 1, and April 8, 4 minutes):

For lab sessions on March 18, April 1, and April 8, students will individually present on a particular new media example, according to the topic for the week: social media, mobile technologies, or digital games. A signup sheet for presentation slots will be available in labs on March 4 – those who do not sign up will be assigned to a slot. Students should prepare a four-minute Ignite-style talk that presents the example to class and highlights one specific problem or challenge related to the social, economic, political, or cultural aspects of that example. The presentations will be adapted from Ignite talks, where the four-minute talk will be accompanied by 16 slides that each automatically advance after 15 seconds. For more on Ignite talks and to view some examples, see: <http://igniteshow.com/>.

Final Exam (35%, Registrar-scheduled, in April exam period, two hours):

The final exam, which students will have two hours to complete, will take place during the April examination period (April 16-27) at a date to be determined by the Registrar. The exam will cover all material included in the course lectures and readings, in order to evaluate students' understanding of new media in broad contexts. The format of the exam will be a mix of multiple choice, short answer, and long answer questions.

Registrar-scheduled Final Examination: Yes

All assignments and exams must be completed or a course grade of F may be assigned at the discretion of the instructor.

Submission of Assignments: Please hand in your essays directly to your tutor or instructor if possible. If it is not possible to do so, a daytime drop box is available in SS320; a date stamp is provided for your use. A night drop box is also available for after-hours submission. Assignments will be removed the following morning, stamped with the previous day's date, and placed in the instructor's mailbox.

Written assignments should be typed, double spaced, in 12-point Times New Roman font, with pages numbered. Citations and references should follow APA style. For a guide to using APA style, see: <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/01/>

Please include your name and ID number on all assignments, and be prepared to provide picture ID to pick up assignments or look at final exams in SS 320 after classes have ended. Personal information is collected in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act. For more information, see <http://www.ucalgary.ca/secretariat/privacy>

Note: It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment. For courses in which assignments are submitted electronically, it is the student's responsibility to ensure that the correct copy of the assignment is submitted. (Including the version date or version number in your file name may help you avoid submitting the wrong version of your written assignments.)

Policy for Late Assignments

Assignments submitted after the deadline may be penalized with the loss of a grade (e.g.: A- to B+) for each day late.

Student Accommodations

Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services; SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/.

Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor. The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy\_0.pdf .

Please note:

1. Students seeking accommodations for transient illnesses (e.g., the flu) should contact their instructors directly. Whenever possible, students should advise their instructors in advance if they will be missing quizzes, presentations, in-class assignments, or group meetings.
2. When accommodations are granted, they may take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test.
3. For information on Deferrals of Final Exams and Term Work, see sections G.6 and G.7 of the University Calendar at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/g-6.html> and <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/g-7.html>

Writing Skills Statement

Department policy directs that all written assignments (including, to a lesser extent, written exam responses) will be assessed at least partly on writing skills. For details see <http://comcul.ucalgary.ca/needtoknow>. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc) but also general clarity and organization. Sources used in research papers must be properly documented. If you need help with your writing, you may use the Writing Centre. Visit the website for more details: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support>

Grading & Grade Scale of the Department of Communication, Media and Film

Final grades are reported as letter grades. However, assignments, exams, and other work in this course will be graded using raw scores (for example, an assignment worth 15% will be graded out of 15).

The following grade scale percentage equivalents are used in the Department. If letter grades are used for an assignment or other course component, the percentage equivalent in the final column will be used for calculating the final grade:

Grade Point Value	Description	Grade	Department grade scale equivalents	Letter grade % equivalent for calculations
4.00	Outstanding	A+	96 - 100%	98.0%
4.00	Excellent—superior performance, showing comprehensive understanding of subject matter.	A	90 - 95.99%	93.0%
3.70		A -	85 - 89.99%	87.5%
3.30		B+	80 - 84.99%	82.5%
3.00	Good--clearly above average performance with knowledge of subject matter generally complete.	B	75 - 79.99%	77.5%
2.70		B-	70 - 74.99%	72.5%
2.30		C+	65 - 69.99%	67.5%
2.00	Satisfactory—basic understanding of the subject matter.	C	60 - 64.99%	62.5%
1.70		C-	55 - 59.99%	57.5%
1.30	Minimal pass—marginal performance; generally insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the same subject	D+	53 - 54.99%	54.0%
1.00		D	50 - 52.99%	51.5%
0.00	Fail – unsatisfactory performance or failure to meet course requirements.	F	00 - 49.99%	0%

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university.

You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. In-text citations must be provided, and readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. Wording taken directly from a source must be enclosed within quotation marks (or, for long quotations, presented in the format prescribed by the documentation style you are using). Paraphrased information must not follow the original wording and sentence structure with only slight word substitutions here and there. These requirements apply to all assignments and sources, including those in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media.

For information on citation and documentation styles (including APA, Chicago, IEEE, MLA, and others), visit the links provided at <https://ucalgary.ca/ssc/resources/writing-support/436> . If you have questions about how to document sources, please consult your instructor or the Writing Centre (3rd Floor TFDL, <http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support>).

Academic Misconduct

For information on academic misconduct and its consequences, please see the University of Calgary Calendar at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>

Research Ethics

Whenever you perform research with human participants (i.e. surveys, interviews, observation) as part of your university studies, you are responsible for following university research ethics guidelines. Your instructor must review and approve of your research plans and supervise your research. For more information about your research ethics responsibilities, see <http://arts.ucalgary.ca/research/resources/ethics>
