Required Text(s):

Herodotus, The Histories (Penguin edition 1996, revised by J. Marincola)
 Thucydides, History of the Peloponnesian War (Penguin revised edition, 2003)
 Xenophon, A History of My Times (Penguin edition, 2004)

Optional Text(s): Additional readings will be recommended in class.

Course Description: This course will cover the chronological period stretching from c. 500 BCE to 360 BCE. Within this period we see the rise and fall of two Greek states, Athens and Sparta, whose impact upon the subsequent history and intellectual thought of the Western world has been and continues to be central. The period, though one of intense and almost constant warfare, encompasses the birth and flowering of historical writing, philosophical and scientific thought, rhetoric and rhetorical training, as well as providing the setting for what are regarded as the finest Greek tragedies and comedies and works of art and architecture, the remains of which continue to inspire.

Online elements for this course: the Group exercise will involve working online.

Core Competencies: This course aims to increase your critical abilities through careful reading and analysis of the primary source material for the period, to enhance your ability both to argue effectively and to work with others by means of group assignments.

Course Requirements:

Date	Assessment	Weight (%)	Required pass/fail
Feb. 26	Midterm test	25%	n/a
Feb. 10	In-class assignment #1	10%	n/a
Mar. 10	In-class assignment #2	10%	n/a
Apr. 9 and 14	Group assignment (including a short presentation on either April 9 or 14)	20%	n/a

A numerical mark will be given for each course requirement. A letter grade will be assigned on the following number and letter grade scheme, standardized within the Department of Classics and Religion:

A+	100 - 96	A	95 - 90	A-	89 - 85
B+	84 - 80	B	79 - 75	B-	74 - 70
C+	69 - 65	C	64 - 60	C-	59 - 55
D+	54 - 53	D	52-50	F	Under 50

N.B. All written assignments will be graded with regard to both form and content.

Policy with regard to missed assignments/assessments:

Deferrals of term-work will only be granted when documentation (e.g. official doctor's note, a note from Dino's coaching staff, or the equivalent) has been provided.

Expectations for student conduct in this course:

You are expected to show consideration and respect for your fellow-classmates and instructor, to come to class with course reading done so that you can participate fully in discussions, and to participate fully in the group exercises (which will also include completing readings in advance).

Electronic Device Policy: Please show respect towards your classmates and instructor with regard to electronic devices by keeping your phone on silent during the class and using laptop computers (or other note-taking devices) only for the purpose of taking notes, following along with classroom demonstrations, or for other course-related purposes. Those who cause a distraction by using them for other purposes will have this privilege withdrawn.

Syllabus:

A complete syllabus will be made available the first week of class.

References and Bibliography:

The Department of Classics and Religion uses the most recent edition of the Chicago Manual of Style and requires references and bibliographies to adhere to the Chicago citation system. You can find a quick guide here: http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html. Alternatively please consult with the library staff for help and advice using the Chicago citation style.

Academic Honesty

Plagiarism is not tolerated at the University of Calgary and has serious consequences. Your essays/presentations must be your own work and inadequate referencing may be seen as plagiarism. Please see the relevant sections on Academic Misconduct in the current University Calendar (section K, which can be found here: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>). If you have questions about correct referencing, please consult your instructor, or librarian staff.

Academic Accommodation

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodation. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with Student Accessibility Services, please contact their office at 403-220-8237. Students who have not registered with Student Accessibility Services are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. You are also required to discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of the course.
