Course Description

This course will examine the major western religions of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam from three perspectives, moving from macro to wide analysis. First, the outstanding features, concepts, and personalities of each tradition will be examined up-close (i.e., synchronic analysis). Then, a historical trajectory of each religious tradition will be sketched that, from ancient beginnings to modern developments (i.e., diachronic analysis). Finally, the deep human impulses and concerns underpinning each tradition will be identified within the broad context of grand cosmic-time (i.e., hyperchronic analysis). At each level, comparative assessments will be made between the three western religious streams. Class instruction will include lectures, films, assigned readings, and discussions.

Core Competencies

This course promotes the following academic competencies:

- Knowledge of the common concerns and multiple differences in world religions.
- Understanding of the competing claims of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam concerning humanity's place and purpose within the cosmos.
- Awareness of how Judaism, Christianity, and Islam have been appropriated in history and society and how these religious systems influence modern thought and life.
- Skill in reading and interpreting secondary materials on topics of religion.
- Ability to critically assess religion from a variety of academic, "outsider" perspectives.

- Student Responsibilities
- Attendance of lectures
 - Comprehension and engagement of presented materials
 - Conceptual control of basic facts, concepts, and issues
 - Study of assigned readings

Learning Assessment	Three equally weighted tests (January 24, 31 and February 7)	30%
	Midterm Exam (March 7)	30%
	Registrar scheduled final exam (2 hours)	40%
		Total: 100%

PLEASE NOTE:

- given the nature of the subject of the subject and the approaches adopted for this course, it is vital that students attend the first week of class to understand the basic premises involved in academic studies of religion.
- tests must be written/submitted on the dates scheduled. No exceptions will be made, except for death, significant illness, or domestic affliction (corroborated by a valid note from a physician or counsellor). The instructor must be contacted within twenty-four hours of a missed exam or deadline.
- a variety of testing styles will be employed in the midterm and final exams (multiple choice, fill-in-the-blank, matching, short answer, long answer etc.).
- students anticipating a class absence should find a classmate willing to loan his/her notes; no lecture notes will be available from the instructor.
- students must maintain “back up” copies of all submissions; no concessions will be made for “lost” materials.

Grading Scale A numerical grade is assigned for each course requirement. Following the final graded component, a letter grade is assigned, using the department-approved table of equivalencies:

A+ 100-96	B+ 84-80	C+ 69-65	D+ 54-53
A 95-90	B 79-75	C 64-60	D 52-50
A- 89-85	B- 74-70	C- 59-55	F under 50

N.B. All written assignments will be graded with regard to both form and content.
