Required Text(s):

World Religions: A Guide to the Essentials, Thomas A. Robinson and Hillary Rodrigues (editors)
Baker Academic, November 2014, Print.

Course Description:

This course will provide an introduction to the western faiths focusing on Judaism, Christianity (including Mormonism and Pentecostalism), and Islam. Each tradition will be presented according to its historical background, textual tradition, cultural context(s), leading figures, institutions, practices, and key beliefs/doctrines. The development and fragmentation of each faith will be discussed, highlighting cultural shifts and sectarian distinctions. Special attention will be given to Abrahamic covenant, concepts of revelation, the office of the prophet, conquest/war, anti-Semitism, and dimensional analysis.

Students will be guided through an introductory reading of select texts (in English translation) of the Hebrew Bible, the New Testament, and the Qur'an, and guided in the examination of revelation, historical context, textual criticism, and issues in exegesis.

The course will be composed of four modules:

- Module 1 Introduction to the Study of Religion (chapter one)
- Module 2 Judaism (chapter three)
- Module 3 Christianity (chapter four)
- Module 4 Islam (chapter five)

Online elements for this course:

In addition to the textbook readings, students will be required to read select excerpts from sacred texts and online sources. Links will be posted on D2L.

Core Competencies:

Upon completion of this course, students will become familiar with:

- approaches and obstacles to the study of religion
- key terms and concepts in the study of religion
- dimensional analysis of religion
- the historical context of the western religious traditions
- the chronological development of the western religious traditions
- key themes and teachings in the western religious traditions
- key religious texts and approaches to interpretation
- the development of sectarianism within each of the western religious traditions

If documentation is not provided within 48 hours, the student will not be provided an opportunity to make up the test and will receive a numerical mark of zero. If a student misses a lecture, they are encouraged to get lecture notes from another student. The instructor does not provide lecture notes or PowerPoint slides.

Expectations for student conduct in this course:

Please be courteous toward other students in the course. For students who raise questions during class, please contribute to the resourceful use of classroom time by limiting the number of questions you ask in each class. Students are encouraged to steer their inquiries toward objective investigation rather than confessional or adversarial agendas.

Expectations for email correspondence in this course:

Please identify the subject of your email and clearly identify yourself by your full name and the course you are registered in. Please be courteous and professional in email correspondence. Please do not send email inquiries related to dates and deadlines. Students shall refer to the university calendar, course outline, and final exam schedule for schedule information. Do not ask the instructor to preview your exam answers and study materials.

Electronic Device Policy:

Laptops are permitted if used for the purpose of taking lecture notes. Do not use laptops during class for email, Facebook, or other nonacademic activities. Cell phones must be turned off during the entire class time. Texting during class is not permitted. Taking pictures in the classroom is not permitted. This includes taking pictures of data projector images and slides. Students that distract the instructor or other students due to the misuse of electronic devices during class will be requested to leave the classroom.

Recording of lectures is prohibited without the consent of the instructor. According to Academic Regulations E.6, “With the permission of the instructor, students may tape record lectures, provided that the student and instructor sign a Release form available from departmental and faculty offices. A copy of the Release form shall be retained by the instructor and by the department in which the course is offered.”

Requests for makeup tests and/or assignments:

This course does not provide makeup tests or assignments.

Visitors:

If space permits, students may request to bring a visitor to attend a lecture. All visitors must be currently registered at the University of Calgary. Send all requests to the course instructor by email at least 24 hours in advance of the lecture, providing the name and student ID of the visitor(s).

Syllabus:

A complete syllabus will be made available the first week of class.

References and Bibliography:

The Department of Classics and Religion uses the most recent edition of the Chicago Manual of Style and requires references and bibliographies to adhere to the Chicago citation system. You can find a quick guide here: http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html.

Alternatively please consult with the library staff for help and advice using the Chicago citation style.

Academic Honesty

Plagiarism is not tolerated at the University of Calgary and has serious consequences. Your essays/presentations must be your own work and inadequate referencing may be seen as plagiarism. Please see the relevant sections on Academic Misconduct in the current University Calendar (section K, which can be found here: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>.) If you have questions about correct referencing, please consult your instructor, librarian staff or the Chicago manual of style.

Academic Accommodation

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodation. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with Student Accessibility Services, please contact their office at 403-220-8237. Students who have not registered with Student Accessibility Services are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. You are also required to discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of the course.
