World Religions: A Guide to the Essentials, Thomas A. Robinson and Hillary Rodrigues (editors) Baker Academic, November 2014. Available at the U of C Bookstore New $49.00 Used $36.75

Course Description:

This course will provide an introduction to eastern religions focusing on Hinduism and Buddhism, with some attention to Jainism, Confucianism, Daoism, and Sikhism. Each tradition will be presented according to its historical background, cultural context(s), sacred texts, leading figures, institutions, practices, and beliefs/philosophies.

The course will be composed of five modules:

- Module 1 Studying World Religions (chapter one)
- Module 2 Hinduism (chapter six)
- Module 3 Jainism and Buddhism (chapters seven and eight)
- Module 4 Confucianism and Daoism (chapter ten)
- Module 5 Sikhism (chapter nine)

Course content will be delivered through readings (text and online readings) audio files (lectures and podcast conversations) and online documentaries available through the University of Calgary library (Films on Demand).

Online elements for this course:

Accessing online texts, websites, and documentaries. Completing online tests.

Tests:

All tests for this course are completed online. Tests are NOT “open book”. Students are not permitted to consult any course materials while completing any of the module tests. Each module test will be available for a 14-hour period of time on the date assigned for the test. Module tests are timed, requiring students to complete the test within a specified time limit. It is important for students to take extra care to ensure that they have access to dependable power and internet service.

Do not rely on your computer battery as your only power source when taking the exam. Plug in your computer power cord. “My battery died” will not be considered an acceptable reason for failing to complete the test. For students who experience interruption to internet service while taking the exam, please contact the instructor as soon as internet service is restored. In the meantime, document your location, and the date and time of the interruption to internet service. If a student cannot complete the exam during the 14-hour period of time on the dates assigned for the test due to interruption to internet service or computer malfunction, the student must notify the instructor of the interruption to internet service within 24 hours after the test period via email. Students that require a makeup test are required to arrange a time with the instructor. Normally makeup tests will not be online, but will be invigilated by the instructor or teaching assistant at the Department of Classics and Religion.

Core Competencies:

Upon completion of this course, students will become familiar with:

- approaches to the study of religion
- key terms and concepts in the study of religion
- the historical-geographical context of the eastern religious traditions
- the chronological development of the eastern religious traditions
- key themes and teachings in the eastern religious traditions
- key religious and philosophical texts
- reformation and sectarianism
- the introduction of eastern religions to North America

Adjusted Final Grades: The instructor will implement a standard measure of adjustment (.5%) for final grades. For example, a final grade of 64.5% (C) will be rounded up to 65% (C+). Please do not send email inquiries asking the instructor to increase or 'round up' your final grade.

Extra Assignments: There are no extra assignments for this course. Students will not be given an opportunity to submit extra work or retake tests to increase their grade.

Weighting of Module Tests: The weighting for module tests is identified above. The weighting of tests will not be changed to accommodate individual student requests.

Reviewing Tests: The online tests for this course display the student's final score. Test answers are not displayed. For students interested in seeing individual test answers, please make an appointment with the instructor at the end of the term after all tests are completed. At that time, you can review all of your test answers.

Policy with regard to missed assignments/assessments:

If a student misses a test due to illness or an emergency, the student must provide the instructor with supporting documentation (note from doctor, counselor, accident report, etc.) within 48 hours of the absence. If documentation is not provided within 48 hours, the student will not be provided an opportunity to make up the test and will receive a numerical mark of zero.

Expectations for email correspondence in this course:

Please be courteous in email correspondence. Inquiries related to a test must be sent no less than 24 hours before the day of the test. Please identify the subject of your email and clearly identify yourself by your full name and the course you are registered in. Please do not send email inquiries related to dates and deadlines. Students shall refer to the university calendar, course outline and the D2L course site for schedule information.

Syllabus:

A complete syllabus will be made available the first week of class.
