Textbooks:

Problems of Suffering in the Religions of the World by John Bowker
Women and Evil by Nel Noddings
Shake Hands with the Devil by Romeo Dallaire
Eichmann in Jerusalem by Hannah Arendt

Course description:

If the religions of the world have anything in common, it is the preoccupation with the occurrence of suffering and what is called evil. Human life is fragile and often painful; people are also often conscious of moral defects in themselves and in others. In some religions, particularly those that affirm the existence of an all powerful and benevolent God, there is also a theoretical problem of evil; how are physical or natural and moral evil compatible with belief in such a figure? This problem will be surveyed, together with the human propensity to often attribute to others the responsibility for causing such evil.

Course Format:

The course will include lectures and class discussion in both small groups and the entire class. Each week certain students will be asked to prepare questions for small group discussion. I do recommend, however, that as you read the assigned material, you would all write down questions and comments to bring to class. If you are shy about talking in class, please send your questions or comments to me via email and I will introduce them in class so that all can benefit from the discussion.

Core Competencies:

Students will work on the following skills: critical appraisal of arguments and theories; practical application of theories and concepts presented in course readings and lectures; and clear expression of ideas in both written assignments and oral presentations.

Blackboard:

The Blackboard system will be used for communication, reporting grades on tests and exams, and posting notes and announcements.

Course Requirements:

2 written reading response papers (5 pages) are due on:

Sept. 26th, Nov. 19 th	2 x 20% =	40%
Midterm Exam: October 24 th		20%
Final Essay (10 pages) due December 3 rd		40%
		—————
		100%

Reading Response Papers – These two papers will be a reflection on course material and class discussions. Assignments should be submitted in hard copy in class on the due date, please do not use the Digital Dropbox in Blackboard.

Exams - The exams will include short answer questions (requiring answers of one or two paragraphs) and short essay questions (requiring answers of one to two pages). Your answers will be graded on form (proper grammar, effective organization of ideas, clear writing style) as well as content (accuracy, completeness, strength of analysis).

Final Essay - Guidelines will be posted on Blackboard.

There will be no Registrar scheduled final examination for this course.*

NB. POLICY REGARDING MISSED EXAMINATIONS

Exam dates are firm. Without acceptable documentation (i.e. medical certificate, police report, bereavement notice, confirmation of religious observance, or court summons), missed assessments will be awarded an ‘F’. PLEASE CONSIDER THIS IN YOUR DECISION TO CONTINUE WITH THIS COURSE. This policy is intended to encourage diligence and integrity among students as well as to uphold principles of fairness and equality with respect to other students in the class. Excuses other than those listed above will receive little attention.

Grading:

A numerical mark will be given for each course requirement. A letter grade will be assigned on the following number and letter grade scheme, standardized within the Department of Religious Studies:

A+	100 - 96	A	95.9 - 90	A-	89.9 - 85
B+	84.9 - 80	B	79.9 - 75	B-	74.9 - 70
C+	69.9 - 65	C	64.9 - 60	C-	59.9 - 55
D+	54.9 - 53	D	52.9-50	F	Under 50
