 Kathy Rudy, Sex and the Church, Beacon Press, 1997.
 There will also be a course-pack available from the bookstore.

Course Description: The term “gender” today can have multiple meanings. This course will explore certain of these more prominent concepts: sex and gender, gender difference, and gender construction, intersectionality, as well as examine ideals of a gender-specific nature. Its primary focus will be to help students understand these terms in relation to important contemporary issues and debates, and their relevance for Religious Studies. A primary focus will be the manner in which gender norms can be shaped by cultural institutions and the contribution that scholars of religion are contributing today to such discussions.

Online elements for this course:

The Desire2Learn system will be used for communication, reporting grades on tests and exams, and posting notes and announcements.

Core Competencies:

Students will work on the following skills: critical appraisal of arguments and theories; practical application of theories and concepts presented in course readings and lectures; and clear expression of ideas in both written assignments and oral presentations.

Course Requirements:

Date	Assessment	Weight (%)
2 nd October	Response paper	10%
21 st October	Response paper	10%
4 th November	Midterm Exam	35%

D+	54 - 53	D	52-50	F	Under 50

N.B. All written assignments will be graded with regard to both form and content.

Policy with regard to missed assignments/assessments:

All dates are firm. Without acceptable documentation (i.e. medical certificate, police report, bereavement notice, confirmation of religious observance, or court summons), missed assessments will be awarded an 'F'. PLEASE CONSIDER THIS IN YOUR DECISION TO CONTINUE WITH THIS COURSE. This policy is intended to encourage diligence and integrity among students as well as to uphold principles of fairness and equality with respect to other students in the class. Excuses other than those listed above will receive little attention.

Electronic Device Policy:

No electronic recording of class allowed.

Syllabus:

A complete syllabus will be made available the first week of class.

References and Bibliography:

The Department of Classics and Religion uses the most recent edition of the Chicago Manual of Style and requires references and bibliographies to adhere to the Chicago citation system. You can find a quick guide here: http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools\_citationguide.html. Alternatively please consult with the library staff for help and advice using the Chicago citation style.

Academic Honesty

Plagiarism is not tolerated at the University of Calgary and has serious consequences. Your essays/presentations must be your own work and inadequate referencing may be seen as plagiarism. Please see the relevant sections on Academic Misconduct in the current University Calendar (section K, which can be found here: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>.) If you have questions about correct referencing, please consult your instructor, librarian staff or the Chicago manual of style.

Academic Accommodation

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre, please contact their office at 403-220-8237. Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. You are also required to discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of the course.
