Prerequisite(s): One of Computer Science 319 or 331, and one of Philosophy 279 or 377.

Notes: The prerequisite of Philosophy 279 or 377 is waived for Engineering students in the Software Engineering program. Also known as: (formerly Computer Science 349)

3. Grading:

The University policy on grading and related matters is described in F.1 and F.2 of the online University Calendar. In determining the overall grade in the course the following weights will be used:

Component(s)	Weighting %
Assignment 1	10
Assignment 2	10
Assignment 3	10
Midterm Exam	25
Final Exam	45

Each of the above components will be given a letter grade using the official university grading system. The final grade will be calculated using the grade point equivalents weighted by the percentages given above and then converted to a final letter grade using the official university grade point equivalents.

In order to obtain a final grade of C- or better in the course, a student must achieve a weighted average of C- (1.7) or better on the midterm and final exams. Students who achieve a higher grade on the final exam than on the midterm exam will have their midterm exam grade replaced with their final exam grade.

4. Missed Components of Term Work:

The regulations of the Faculty of Science pertaining to this matter are found in the Faculty of Science area of the Calendar in Section 3.6. It is the student's responsibility to familiarize himself/herself/themselves with these regulations. See also Section E.3 of the University Calendar.

5. Scheduled out-of-class activities:

There are no scheduled out of class activities for this course.

6. Course Materials:

Programming in Prolog: Using the ISO Standard, 5th Edition by Clocksin and Mellish (Recommended)

7. Examination Policy:

Both the midterm and final exams will have a written section (closed book, no aids allowed) followed by a computer-based programming section.

Students should also read the Calendar, Section G, on Examinations.

10. Human studies statement:

Students will not participate as subjects or researchers in human studies.

See also Section E.5 of the University Calendar.

11. Reappraisal of Grades:

A student wishing a reappraisal, should first attempt to review the graded work with the Course coordinator/instructor or department offering the course. Students with sufficient academic grounds may request a reappraisal. Non-academic grounds are not relevant for grade reappraisals. Students should be aware that the grade being reappraised may be raised, lowered or remain the same. See Section I.3 of the University Calendar.
