Course Objective:

The main objective of this course is to provide the student with an understanding of the role of petroleum in the world economy. The development and significance of the oil industry over time will be reviewed and prospects for oil in the world's economic future will be evaluated. Basic analytical concepts such as supply, demand, perfect and imperfect competition will be used to explain the workings of the global petroleum industry. There will be particular emphasis on the influence of market power on the world's petroleum industry over time.

Grade Determination and Final Examination Details:

Assignment	10% - Due Date: March 28
Midterm Examination	40% - February 28
Final Examination	50% - April 19-30

Tests and final exams are marked on a numerical (percentage) basis, then converted to letter grades. The course grade is then calculated using the weights indicated above. As a guide to determining standing, these letter grade equivalences will generally apply:

A+	98 - 100	B	75 - 79	C-	60 - 62
A	90 - 97	B-	70 - 74	D+	55 - 59
A-	85 - 89	C+	67 - 69	D	50 - 54
B+	80 - 84	C	63 - 66	F	0 - 49

A non-programmable calculator may be allowed during the writing of tests or final examinations.

There will be a Registrar scheduled final examination, lasting 2 hours and held in a classroom.

Exams may contain multiple choice questions.

Notes:

- Students seeking reappraisal of a piece of graded term work (term paper, essay, etc.) should discuss their work with the Instructor within fifteen days of the work being returned to the class.
- Late assignments will not be accepted under any circumstances.
- Make-up midterm examinations will not be given under any circumstances. With appropriate documentation, the weight of the midterm will be moved to the final exam. Also, examinations will not be given before the indicated dates.
- The use of cell phones for any purpose in class is prohibited. Computers may be used for note-taking purposes only.
- Deferred examinations will not be given except in cases of extreme personal emergencies.
- Students' exams and assignments will be returned during regular class time.
- Please note that the following types of emails will receive no response: emails not addressed to anyone in particular; emails where the recipient's name is not spelled correctly; anonymous emails; emails in which the sender has not identified which course and section he/she is taking; and, emails involving questions that are specifically addressed on the course outline.
