Course Description:

An introduction to the principles of game theory utilizing a non-mathematical and intuitive approach. The principles of strategic thinking are illustrated by application and examples in economics and social sciences.

Course Learning Outcomes:

The objective is to develop the ability of students to reason strategically and to understand how game theory can be used to explain social interaction. By the end of the course students are supposed to be:

1. Able to build a model of a strategic situation with simultaneous moves;
2. Able to recognize many of such strategic situations in their lives, and their environment;
3. Able to use concept of best response and dominant strategies in equilibrium thinking;
4. Able to assess the equilibrium from the efficiency point of view;
5. Able to model and analyze strategic situation in games where representative player is one of many players of one or few types and apply it to (asymmetric) public goods problems;
6. Able to understand expected utility approach, how to use it and its implication in analysis of the individual attitude toward the risk;
7. Able to build and solve strategic situations where the actions are chosen randomly and use this concept in the equilibrium thinking of evolutionary games;
8. Able to build a model of a strategic situation with sequential moves, analyze subgame perfect equilibrium and assess its optimality;
9. Able to understand how to use credible promises and threats in a clever way of manipulating the world to own advantage and apply it in individual situations, common pool problems, firms positioning strategies;
10. Able to solve repeated “prisoners’ dilemma” type games with inefficient equilibrium, and suggest alternative strategies with credible promises and threats in richer strategy space that would support more efficient outcomes.

Examination Details:

Tests and exams WILL NOT involve multiple choice questions

Programmable calculators, cellphones, textbooks, course notes, and other electronic devices will not be allowed during the writing of tests or final examinations. Students are reminded that simply being able to access their cellphone during an exam is academic misconduct.

Grading Policies:

The official grading system will be used. See <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-1-1.html>.

Students must receive a passing grade on the final exam to pass the course. Students committing academic misconduct during the final exam will not receive a passing grade for the course.

If a student's letter grade on the final exam exceeds their midterm(s) letter grade, the weight of the midterm(s) is (are) transferred to the final exam. The student must have written the midterm(s) or provided supporting documentation for the absence(s). For Winter 2023 the University has suspended the requirement for supporting documentation. Instructors cannot currently ask students for documentation to support absences.

As per the Writing Across the Curriculum Statement in the Calendar, writing and grading thereof will be a factor in the evaluation of student work. See <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/e-2.html>.

Any student work which remains undistributed after the last day of classes will be available to students through the instructor's office during the instructor's office hours.

The final examination will be comprehensive, scheduled by the Registrar, held in a classroom, and last 2 hours. If a student cannot write their final exam on the date assigned by the Registrar's Office, they need to apply for a deferred exam <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/g-6.html>. Under no circumstance will this be accommodated by the Department.

THERE WILL BE NO MAKEUP OR DEFERRED QUIZZES/TESTS/EXAMS under any circumstances, nor may the quizzes/tests/exams be written early. Students unable to write the quizzes/tests/exams because of documented illness, family emergency, religious observance, or university-sanctioned event will have the weight shifted to the final examination; otherwise a grade of zero will be assigned.

Reappraisal of Grades:

For Reappraisal of Graded Term Work, see Calendar I.2
