Course Learning Outcomes:

The objective of this course is to provide students with applied expertise and familiarity with the operation of financial markets, their institutional structure, and trading. The first part of the course will introduce students to how the investment process works, along with how financial markets operate and how various securities trade.

The second component of the course will focus on creating a portfolio in practice. This will include coverage of the risk and return relationship, diversification, and security analysis. Students will also be introduced to derivatives: their pricing and how to use them to hedge risk.
