Additional Required Readings and Course Web Page

A detailed course outline and numerous other required readings will be made available in PDF format on the course web page to be located at

The course web page will also contain a schedule of readings corresponding to each day that class meets, course announcements, and any other information to be distributed to the class.

Course Outline:

In this course we use economics to understand the organization of production, distribution, and exhibition in the movie industry. The focus of the course is on the economics of contracts – in particular how information and uncertainty shape the structure of economic transactions. The historical and institutional illustrations are set in the context of Hollywood.

Grade Determination and Final Examination Details:

The overall grade will be determined on the basis of your performance on one in-class test (30%), one term project (30%), and the final exam (40%).

Tests and final exams are marked on a numerical (percentage) basis, and then converted to letter grades. The course grade is then calculated using the weights indicated above. As a guide to determining standing, these letter grade equivalences will generally apply:

A+	99 – 100	B+	80 – 84	C+	65 – 69	D+	50 – 53
A	90 – 98	B	75 – 79	C	55 – 64	D	40 – 49
A-	85 – 89	B-	70 – 74	C-	50 – 54	F	0 - 39

If, for some reason, the distribution of grades determined using the aforementioned conversion chart appears to be abnormal the instructor reserves the right to change the grade conversion chart if the instructor, at the instructor's sole discretion, feels it is necessary to more fairly represent student achievement.

There will not be multiple-choice questions on any tests or on the final examination.

A passing grade on the final examination is essential for a student to pass the course as a whole.

A non-programmable calculator will be allowed during the writing of tests or final examinations.

There will be a Registrar scheduled final examination, lasting 2 hours and held in a classroom.
