Course Description:

The objective of this course is to develop expertise in regulatory economics, defined as price and entry regulation. Price and entry regulation occur when the state restricts who can provide services and approves the terms (price, quality, product variety etc.) of service. The course will consider three broad topics: (i) Why regulate? (ii) How should firms/industries be regulated? and (iii) How are firms actually regulated? A considerable part of the course will address regulatory restructuring in network industries, with case studies on electricity reform, local telecommunications, and pipelines.

The term project will include five graded components: (1) an outline, (2) a literature review (3) a preliminary draft, (4) an in-class presentation and (5) a final paper.

Each student will also present a paper from the reading list in class.

Class participation is graded, since this is seminar course.

Course Outcomes:

Students who successfully complete this course will

- (i) Understand and appreciate the history, rationale, and functioning of regulatory institutions.
- (ii) Understand and appreciate key principles, theories and ideas in the regulatory economics literature.
- (iii) Be able to apply the key principles in the regulatory literature to analyze, critique, and craft regulatory institutions and policies.
- (iv) Develop skills in researching, writing, and presenting analysis of regulatory issues.

Course Outline:

Grade Determination and Final Examination Details

Department of Economics Criteria for Letter Grades. Economics professors use the following criteria when assigning letter grades:

Grade	Grade Point Value	Description
A+	4.00	Outstanding
A	4.00	Excellent-superior performance, showing-comprehensive understanding of subject matter
A-	3.70	Very good performance
B+	3.30	Good performance
B	3.00	Satisfactory performance
B-	2.70	Minimum pass for students in the Faculty of Graduate Studies
C+	2.30	All grades below “B-” are indicative of failure at the graduate level and cannot be counted toward Faculty of Graduate Studies course requirements. Individual programs may require a higher passing grade.

Students must receive a passing grade on the final exam to pass the course.

There will be a department scheduled final examination, held in a classroom, lasting 2 hours. Non-programmable calculators will be allowed during the writing of tests or final examinations.

Tests and exams will not involve multiple choice questions.

The midterm exams will be held in class on October 13 and November 15.

The seminar presentation will require the student to present a published paper in class and to lead a discussion about it, with papers to be drawn from the reading list.

Absence from a Test/Exam

THERE WILL BE NO MAKEUP OR DEFERRED midterms under any circumstances, nor may the quizzes be written early. Students unable to write the quizzes because of documented illness, family emergency, religious observance, or university-sanctioned event will have the weight shifted to the final examination; otherwise a grade of zero will be assigned. If a student cannot write their final exam on the date assigned by the Department, they need to arrange for a deferred exam with the department.

Reappraisal of Grades:

For Reappraisal of Graded Term Work, see Calendar I.2

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act:

Personal information is collected in accordance with FOIP. Assignments can only be returned to the student and will be accessible only to authorized faculty and staff. For more information, see <https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/access-information-privacy>

Copyright Legislation:

See the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright at <https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/university-policies-procedures/acceptable-use-material-protected-copyright-policy> Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Course materials created by instructors (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the instructor. These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.

Recording of Lectures:

Recording of lectures is prohibited, except for audio recordings authorized as an accommodation by SAS or an audio recording for individual private study and only with the written permission of the instructor. Any unauthorized electronic or mechanical recording of lectures, their transcription, copying, or distribution, constitutes academic misconduct. See <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/e-6.html>.
