Course Description:

The PhD Research Workshop (I and II) is for 3rd year and above PhD students. In this course, we will focus on developing good writing and presentation skills. This course will give students a forum to develop their research ideas, practice their presentation skills, and learn professional skills. We will pursue these goals through (i) workshopping research ideas and preliminary findings, (ii) writing and organizational tips to help focus one's research, and (iii) developing presentation skills. As part of the course students are expected to attend the departmental seminar series (via Zoom in fall 2020).

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes:

The goal of this course is to develop your professional writing and presentation skills as they pertain to your research. We will be using students' current research in the course, thereby helping students complete the various written components of their degrees.

We will focus a significant portion of the course on writing and research skills as they pertain to completing your PhD degree. As part of this, the course will help students communicate their ideas towards (i) find potential advisors, (ii) identifying and assessing research contributions as appropriate for professional and research protocols, and (iii) organizing a clear and interesting paper and presentation.

Course Outline:

In this course, students will be presenting their written work to colleagues for feedback and analysis. The focus of the fall term will be on developing a clear and concise research question, an appropriate methodology, and presenting this research in a clear manner. We will be using a "writing workshop" format for much of this course wherein individuals will be discussing one another's work in class.

Prerequisites/corequisites: Enrollment in the PhD Economics program.

Required Textbook(s): None. Readings will be posted on D2L.

Recommended Textbook(s): None.

Books on Reserve: None.

Online Delivery:

This course will be delivered online. Students are expected to be able to participate online in accordance with this Course Outline. Lectures, assignments, office hours, exams, readings and other course material, etc. all require online access and this access is the responsibility of the student. The instructor will make an effort to provide reasonable accommodations and flexibility as circumstances require. Students are expected to raise with the instructor at the beginning of the semester any potential concerns that require such accommodations.

In order to remotely participate in online courses, students will need to have: computer with a current and updated operating system (macOS or Windows will work with all university-supported online learning technologies), a current and updated web browser installed – the latest versions of Firefox, Safari, Chrome or Edge will help to avoid compatibility issues, secure and reliable internet, microphone / headphones, webcam (optional), scanner (or camera to scan your work).

Desire2Learn:

This course will make use of the Desire2Learn (D2L) platform. Students who are registered in the course can log on at <http://d2l.ucalgary.ca> through their student centre. Please note that D2L features a class e-mail list that may be used to distribute course-related information. These e-mails go to your University of Calgary e-mail addresses only.

Lectures:

Lectures will be delivered online at the Registrar scheduled times and delivered using ZOOM. The lectures will be recorded and subsequently posted to D2L.

Grade Determination/Assessment:

Students will be graded on a pass/fail basis. Workshop participation is required to pass the course.

Reappraisal of Grades and Intellectual Honesty:

For reappraisal of graded term work, see Calendar I.2
