Fall 2014

COURSE TITLE: Approaches to Literature: Literary Monsters

Instructor: Prof. C. Olbey

Office: Social Sciences 1126

Phone: 403-220-8174

E-mail: cwolbey@ucalgary.ca

Office hours: Monday 9-10

Course description:

What are monsters? Who are monsters? Where do they live and why do they go bump in the night? This course will explore different manifestations, and the evolution, of monsters and the concept of the monstrous in a variety of literary texts. Our readings of these narratives will produce an exploration of the literary character of the monster figure that seeks to understand the abiding popularity and cultural function monsters and the concept of the monstrous. The course will also provide instruction in the following areas: close reading of literary texts, technical terms and critical tools used to interpret texts, and essay writing and research skills.

Texts and Readings:

Seamus Heaney. Beowulf

William Shakespeare. The Tempest

Robert Louis Stephenson. The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde

H. G. Wells. The War of the Worlds

Phillip K. Dick . Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep?

John Gardner. Grendel

Janet E. Gardner. Writing About Literature

Assignments and Evaluation:

15 % Reading Quizzes (a series of short answer/multiple choice quizzes for the course readings)

15 % Short Writing Assignment #1 (introductory paragraph and thesis statement; 250 words)

20 % Short Writing Assignment #2 (analytical paragraph - close reading and explication; 500 words)

25% Essay Assignment (1250 words)

25% Registrar scheduled final exam

- There is a Registrar scheduled final exam in this course. Term examination dates are available at the following address: (Calendar, Academic Schedule; <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/exam-schedule.html>). Students must be available for examinations up to the last day of the examination period (Dec 8-18).
- Except for reading quizzes, students must complete all assignments in order to receive a passing grade for the course.
- All assignments must be handed in at the beginning of the class in which they are due. After this they are considered late.
- There is no electronic submission of assignments.
- Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each business day [not class] that the assignment is overdue. Please make every effort to take assignments directly to the instructor. If it is not possible to do so, take your assignment to SS 1152 and put it in the dropbox. Your assignment will be date-stamped and placed in the instructor's mailbox. It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the Department office.

Grading system:

All assignments in this class will receive a numerical percentage grade to be converted using the following scale:

90 + %	A+	4.0
85 – 89 %	A	4.0
80 – 84 %	A–	3.7
77 – 79 %	B+	3.3
74 – 76 %	B	3.0
70 – 73 %	B–	2.7
67 – 69 %	C+	2.3
64 – 66 %	C	2.0
60 – 63 %	C–	1.7
55 – 59 %	D+	1.3
50 – 54 %	D	1.0
0 – 49 %	F	0

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1), instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the 4-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. Please refer to the following information and make sure you are familiar with the statement below on plagiarism.

Your responses make a difference - please participate in USRI Surveys."

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>) "The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community". The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a "positive and productive learning and working environment." This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that "seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff". Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
