

FACULTY OF ARTS
DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH
COURSE OUTLINE

ENGLISH ENGL 201-08 (T/R 15:30-16:45 in EDC 388)

Winter 2016

COURSE TITLE: Approaches to Literature: Beyond the Wall of Sleep: The Literature of Dreams

Instructor: Tom Miller

Office: SS1021

Phone: (403) 210-6551

E-mail: millerte@ucalgary.ca

Office hours: Tuesday 2pm – 3pm

Course description: We spend a third of our lives asleep, lying in bed, or on a couch, in the back of a car, on the train to work. For a full third of our lives, our bodies rest and recuperate, but our minds go to a place little understood and much sought. For millennia, our thinkers and writers have used the notion of the dream to explore the boundaries of imagination and to probe the possibilities of the real. Our brief selection of texts that take up the idea of the dream demonstrate the fascination these nocturnal ramblings have exerted on human beings since time immemorial. Students will be expected to engage critically with all the varied texts, with the goal of developing skills in critical reading and effective, logical writing, employing terminology and techniques learned in the lectures to a variety of written assignments.

Texts and readings:

(All books available at the U of C bookstore.)

Alice's Adventures in Wonderland – Lewis Carroll

Where the Wild Things Are – Maurice Sendak

Einstein's Dreams – Alan Lightman

A Midsummer Night's Dream – William Shakespeare

The Sandman: Season of Mists – Neil Gaiman, Kelley Jones, et al.

A selection of poems and theoretical pieces available online.

Assignments and Evaluation:

6 Reading Comprehension Quizzes (One for each text and one for the poetry we will discuss) – online multiple choice quizzes, worth 2% each – lowest mark will be dropped at the end of the term – Total 10%

Collaborative Study Document – students will be responsible twice this term for contributing to a collaborative study document to be used at the end of term for the exam – this contribution will consist of a small paragraph summarizing important ideas and concepts covered in class during your assigned week. – 200 – 300 words each - Total 20%

Short Writing Assignment – students will be asked to find a non-prose or poetry based text (i.e., a picture, song, video) that deals with the subject of dreams or dreaming, and write a short critical assessment of the text, utilizing one of the theoretical readings covered up to this point. – 500 words – Total - 10%

Essay Proposal – a framework for the final paper, this assignment will require the inclusion of a thesis, texts that will be dealt with in the paper, topics that will be covered, and MLA-formatted sources. – 500 words approx. – Total – 10%

Final Essay – students will turn in a final research paper based around questions raised in our discussions. Students will be provided with a number of topics and will be expected to turn in a thesis-based paper built upon one of these topics. – 1200 – 1500 words – Total 25%

Final Exam – registrar-scheduled final exam covering readings and topics discussed over the course of the term. – Total – 25%

In order to receive a passing grade in the course, students must submit all assignments. Students must be available for examinations up to the last day of the examination period (April 16-27).

Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each business day [not class] that the assignment is overdue. No assignments will be accepted one week past the assignment deadline without the prior consent of the instructor.

Please make every effort to take assignments directly to the instructor. If it is not possible to do so, take your assignment to SS 1152 and put it in the dropbox. Your assignment will be date-stamped and placed in the instructor's mailbox. It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the Department office.

Grading system:

90 + %	A+	4.0
85 – 89 %	A	4.0
80 – 84 %	A–	3.7
77 – 79 %	B+	3.3
74 – 76 %	B	3.0
70 – 73 %	B–	2.7
67 – 69 %	C+	2.3
64 – 66 %	C	2.0
60 – 63 %	C–	1.7
55 – 59 %	D+	1.3
50 – 54 %	D	1.0
0 – 49 %	F	0

The University of Calgary's four-point Undergraduate Grading System, as described in the Calendar (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-2.html>), will be used in this course.

A+/A (4.0); A- (3.7); B+ (3.3); B (3.0); B- (2.7); C+ (2.3); C (2.0); C- (1.7); D+ (1.3); D (1.0); F (0)

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1), instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the four-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. Please refer to the following information and make sure you are familiar with the statement below on plagiarism.

Your responses make a difference - please participate in USRI Surveys."

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>) "The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community". The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a "positive and productive learning and working environment." This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that "seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff". Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
