

FACULTY OF ARTS
DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH
COURSE OUTLINE

ENGLISH 201 L01
COURSE TITLE: Siblings

WINTER 2019

M/W/F 8:00 – 8:50, ST 130

Instructor: Rod Moody-Corbett

Office: SS 1020

E-mail: rjmoodyc@ucalgary.ca

Office hours: Wednesday 1:30-2:30 or by appointment

Homepage/course website:

Course description: Beginning with William Shakespeare's King Lear and ending with David Chariandy's Brother (2017), this course will consider the various ways in which novelists have represented sibling relationships. Whether friendly or fractious, the books in this class examine a range of relationships between brothers and sisters. What differences and what commonalities exist across texts? What might this enduring writerly interest in siblings tell us about literature and/or the way we mediate the unchosen relationships in our own lives? Students will learn skills in close reading and critical thinking. An emphasis will be placed on clear and concise writing.

Texts and readings:

Donald Antrim The Hundred Brothers

David Chariandy Brother

Eden Robinson Monkey Beach

Marilynne Robinson Housekeeping

William Shakespeare King Lear

Assignments and Evaluation:

Creative Writing Response (worth 10% of final grade)

Students are required to complete one creative writing response (750-1000 words) in the first half of the semester. This assignment will help students practice reading comprehension, textual analysis, and writing skills to prepare for the larger Essay assignment. Students may choose a text they intend to write on in more detail for the Essay, but will be expected to develop their ideas far beyond the Creative Writing Response for this purpose. Details pertaining to what constitutes a creative writing response will be discussed in class.

In-Class Test (worth 20% of final grade)

The in-class test will take place halfway through the course and will consist of multiple choice and short answer questions about reading and writing techniques and course material covered up until that time.

In-Class Activities (worth 15% of final grade)

Students are expected to attend class regularly and contribute to group discussion. Students will be assessed based on in-class exercises which will include a library skills assignment designed to introduce students to the University of Calgary research facilities in preparation for their Final Essay, in-class writing activities, and short quizzes measuring student understanding of the texts studied.

Library Assignment: (worth 2%, pass/fail)

In-Class Writing (3x 1%, each calculated out of 2 points)

Multiple Choice Quizzes (worth 10%: 6 unscheduled quizzes worth 2% each, lowest grade dropped)

Close-Reading Essay (worth 35% of final grade)

Students will write one 1250 word essay that will establish a concrete and arguable thesis based upon course readings. These papers will adhere to MLA format. MLA format and research methodology expectations will be addressed in lecture.

Final Exam (worth 20% of final grade)

The final examination in this course will be scheduled by the Registrar. The examination period for the Winter 2019 term is April 15-27, 2019. Students must be available for examinations up to the last day of the examination period. The final exam will be a combination of short answer and essay-style questions and will be closed-book.

There are no extra-credit assignments. All assignments need not be completed to obtain a passing grade.

Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each business day that the assignment is overdue.

Electronic Submissions will be accepted.

Please make every effort to take assignments directly to the instructor. If it is not possible to do so, take your assignment to SS 1152 and put it in the dropbox. Your assignment will be date-stamped and placed in the instructor's mailbox. It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause. Please note that you are responsible for ensuring that computer problems do not interfere with timely submission of work. Keep multiple backups of all your work, at different locations. (Emailing copies of your work in progress to yourself is one easy way to do this.) Computer issues will not be an acceptable reason for late submission. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the Department office.

Grading system:

In this course, all written assignments will be marked on the University of Calgary's four-point Grading System.

90 + %	A+	4.0
85 – 89 %	A	4.0
80 – 84 %	A–	3.7
77 – 79 %	B+	3.3
74 – 76 %	B	3.0
70 – 73 %	B–	2.7
67 – 69 %	C+	2.3
64 – 66 %	C	2.0
60 – 63 %	C–	1.7
55 – 59 %	D+	1.3
50 – 54 %	D	1.0
0 – 49 %	F	0

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1), instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the 4-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. Please refer to the following information and make sure you are familiar with the statement below on plagiarism.

Universal Student Ratings of Instruction (USRI):
"At the University of Calgary, feedback provided by students through the Universal Student Ratings of Instruction (USRI) survey provides valuable information to help with evaluating instruction, enhancing learning and teaching, and selecting courses (www.ucalgary.ca/usri). Your responses make a difference - please participate in USRI Surveys."

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

<http://www.dianahacker.com/resdoc/>
<http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/>

Students who are absent from class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructors as soon as possible. Instructors may request that evidence in the form of documentation be provided. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, instructors may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test. For information on possible forms of documentation, including statutory declarations, please see <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/n-1.html>.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html> "The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community". The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a "positive and productive learning and working environment." This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that "seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff". Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
