ENGLISH 235.20

SPRING, 2013

Fundamentals of Literary Studies: Poetry

Instructor: Margaret Hadley

Office: Social Sciences 1008

Phone: Office: 220-6372

Email: mhadley@ucalgary.ca

Office Hours: MTWR 18:00 to 19:00 (after class) by appointment, please.

Important Dates:

Registrar Scheduled Examination Period: Thursday, June 27 - Saturday, June 29 inclusive

You must be available for examination during this period

Course description:

English 235 is an introduction to the study of poetry. We will explore poetry from a variety of historical periods and cultural perspectives. At the end of the course you will have begun to arrive at an understanding of what poetry is and how it works; you will have a literary vocabulary with which to express your ideas; you will have learned how to write specifically about poetry; and, I hope, you will be able to approach poetry with confidence, pleasure, and respect.

Required Texts:

Babington, Doug, Don LePan and Maureen Okun, eds. The Broadview Pocket Guide to Writing. 3rd ed. Peterborough: Broadview, 2009. Print.

Headrick, Paul. A Method for Writing Essays about Literature. 2nd ed. Toronto. Nelson, 2013. Print.

Rosengarten, Herbert and Amanda Goldrick-Jones, eds.. The Broadview Anthology of Poetry. 2nd ed. Peterborough: Broadview Press, 2008. Print.

Recommended Texts:

A reliable dictionary, such as The Oxford Concise Dictionary, or The Random House Dictionary

A thesaurus (“treasury of words”). Here, bigger is often better. Roget's Thesaurus is well regarded.

Readings: A schedule of readings will be handed out at the first class.

Assignments and Evaluation:

- 10% a thesis statement and outline
- 15% a 2 to 3 page persuasive essay (about 750 words)
- 15% a 75 minute in-class exam – short answers
- 20% an oral group presentation (a group is 2 – 5 students working in collaboration)
 - 5% a written proposal for an oral presentation
 - 5% a written submission to accompany the presentation
- 30% a two hour closed book examination to be written in the Registrar scheduled examination period: : Thursday, June 27 - Saturday, June 29 inclusive
You MUST be available for examination during this period.

We will spend time in class preparing for each of these assignments and exams.

Grading system:

In this course I use the English department's grading system, as partially laid out in the university Calendar.

Find details at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-2.html>

90%+	4.0	A+	Outstanding.
85-89%	4.0	A	Excellent-superior performance, showing comprehensive understanding of subject.
80-84%	3.7	A-
77-79%	3.3	B+
74-76%	3.0	B	Good - clearly above average performance with knowledge of subject matter generally complete.
70-73%	2.7	B-
67-69%	2.3	C+
64-66%	2.0	C	Satisfactory - basic understanding of the subject matter.
60-63%	1.7	C-
55-59%	1.3	D+
50-54%	1.0	D	Minimal pass - marginal performance; generally insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the same subject.
0-49%	0	F	Fail - unsatisfactory performance or failure to meet course requirements.

Rounding up or down of final grades is at my discretion. Please note that I will NOT round up anyone's final grades. For example, a final GPA of 3.5 will be B+ not A-; 3.88 will be A- not A; 1.28 will be D not D+.

Please CAREFULLY note the following:

1. I welcome questions! If you have any questions at all, do please ask in class.
2. I do not accept assignments electronically.
3. Assignments are due at the beginning of class on the day they are due. If it is not possible for you to do this, you may take your assignment to SS 1152 and put it in the drop box. Your assignment will be date-stamped and placed in my mailbox that day.
4. Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each calendar day [not class] that the assignment is overdue. I do not mark papers overdue by seven or more days: I simply assign a grade of F. (Note that an assignment not completed before this period MUST still be submitted --- see 7. below).
5. It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause.
6. I will return assignments to you personally. The staff in the Department office cannot return them.
7. You MUST complete all the assignments and exams in order to be eligible for a passing grade in this course.
8. I will give you plenty of notice for each assignment. I only give extensions to the class as a whole, or to individuals in exceptional circumstances.
9. I have zero tolerance for plagiarism (Latin, 'plagiarius', kidnapper, literary thief). Using any source whatsoever without clear documentation is a serious academic offense, one that I do not tolerate. The consequences to you include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. We will discuss this in the first class on essay writing. Please read the attached statement on plagiarism.
10. You are responsible for checking your e-mail and Blackboard for any changes or updates to the class schedule. Please use your ucalgary email account for all your university communication.

Plagiarism:

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not.

Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>) "The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community". The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a "positive and productive learning and working environment." This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that "seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff". Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
