Course description:

This course will introduce the scholarly study of comic books and graphic novels, with a particular focus on the formal elements that differentiate comics from other forms of literature (poetry, prose), and the history of the comic book format as it has evolved in the United States from the 1930s to today.

Texts and readings:

Scott McCloud. Understanding Comics.

Matt Fraction and David Aja. Hawkeye: My Life as a Weapon and Hawkeye: Little Hits

Mariko Tamaki and Jillian Tamaki. This One Summer

Jaime Hernandez. The Girl from HOPPERS

Roz Chast and Bill Kartalopoulos. Best American Comics – 2016

Assignments and Evaluation:

This class will use a version of scaffolded learning for its evaluation. The advantage of this approach is that it places responsibility for workload directly in the hands of the students. There are a total of thirty-three different assignments for this course, ten of which will be completed during class time and twenty-three of them outside of class time. Students are not required to do all of the assignments, but the final grade in the course will reflect the effort contributed by each student. Assignments will be graded as Proficient, Below Proficient, and Above Proficient. A grade of Proficient will result in full marks being assigned for the work. Works adjudicated as Below Proficient will lose up to half their marks, while those graded as Above Proficient may receive greater than 100%. A breakdown of the various assignments and their weights is below. There are a total of 2000 available points; the total points a student is awarded will be calculated as a percentage of 2000 and equated to a letter grade as per the grade chart below.

- Grading system: In this section provide the following:

90 + %	A+	4.0	67 – 69 %	C+	2.3
85 – 89 %	A	4.0	64 – 66 %	C	2.0
80 – 84 %	A–	3.7	60 – 63 %	C–	1.7
77 – 79 %	B+	3.3	55 – 59 %	D+	1.3
74 – 76 %	B	3.0	50 – 54 %	D	1.0
70 – 73 %	B–	2.7	0 – 49 %	F	0

In-Class Writing (10 x 20 points each = 200 points). During ten of our class sessions, students will be afforded time to do brief responses to prompts in the lecture either individually or in groups. In-Class writing will be collected at the end of class sessions (please leave it by the door on your way out!).

McCloud Writing Response (7 x 50 points each = 350 points). At seven points during the term, students will be prompted on D2L to write a brief response to a question posed by the instructor that directly relates to the chapter from Understanding Comics for a class session. Students should respond in approximately a paragraph to the prompt. Students are required to post their response to the dropbox on D2L no later than 9:00am on the day of the class session in which it is due.

Writing Response (7 x 50 points each = 350 points). At seven points during the term, students will be prompted on D2L to write a brief response to a question posed by the instructor that directly relates to the Required Readings for a class session. Students should respond in approximately a paragraph to the prompt. Students are required to post their response to the dropbox on D2L no later than 9:00am on the day of the class session in which it is due.

Creative Response (6 x 50 points each = 300 points). At six times during the term, students will be prodded to produce a short (generally one page) creative response to a work that we are examining in class. These projects will be prompted on D2L and may include Tracing project; Drawn lecture notes; Detournement; Autobiographical breakdown; Fable thumbnails; and Three Card Nancy. Students are required to post their response to the dropbox on D2L no later than 9:00am on the day of the class session in which it is due.

Graphic Novel Review (Due December 5) (1 x 200 points = 200 points). Students should write a short review (1 to 2 pages) of any graphic novel of their choice. The review should discuss how formal, stylistic, and thematic choices made by the cartoonist(s) become evident in the work. This assignment may be handed in at any time during the term but must be handed in no later than December 5.

Understanding Comics Project (Due October 10) (1 x 300 = 300 points). Students will prepare a project on Scott McCloud's book Understanding Comics. If the project takes the form of an essay, it should be approximately five to seven pages. Essays may build on earlier written responses, but need not. If the project takes a creative form, the work should be comparable to an essay of approximately five to seven pages. Projects will be graded on scholarly research, analysis, and argumentation. Students are required to post their response to the dropbox on D2L no later than midnight on the due date.

Final Project (Due December 5) (1 x 300 = 300 points). Students will prepare a project on one of the comics read during the term. If the project takes the form of an essay, it should be approximately five to seven pages. Essays may build on earlier written responses, but need not. If the project takes a creative form, the work should be comparable to an essay of approximately five to seven pages. Projects will be graded on scholarly research, analysis, and argumentation. Students are required to post their response to the dropbox on D2L no later than midnight on the due date.

Additional Regulations:

There is no final examination for this course.

Students are not required to complete all assignments in order to receive a passing grade on this course.

Assignments submitted after the deadline will be graded as Below Proficient.

Please submit assignments through the appropriate Dropbox on the course D2L site.

The University of Calgary's four-point Grading System, as described in the Calendar;) will be used in this course. <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-1-1.html>

A+/A (4.0); A- (3.7); B+ (3.3); B (3.0); B- (2.7); C+ (2.3); C (2.0); C- (1.7); D+ (1.3); D (1.0); F (0)

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1) <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-1.html>, instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the four-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level.

Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:
 - a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
 - b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
 - c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
 - d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

<http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/>

Students who are absent from class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructors as soon as possible. Instructors may request that evidence in the form of documentation be provided. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, instructors may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test. For information on possible forms of documentation, including statutory declarations, please see <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html>.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar; <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-2.html> "The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community". The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a "positive and productive learning and working environment." This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that "seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff". Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
