Course description:

A study of selected works of Middle English poetry, prose and drama (excluding Geoffrey Chaucer’s Canterbury Tales) in their social, cultural and historical contexts. Texts will be read in the original language and the course will include instruction in Middle English.

Course Hours: 3 units; (3-0)

Prerequisite(s): 60 units including 3 units of courses labelled English at 300 level or above

Learning will occur in both synchronous (i.e., real-time/Zoom) and asynchronous modes. There will be a live Zoom meeting on each of the scheduled class times (TuTh 9:00 – 11:30 with 11:30 – 11:45 reserved for office hours). All of the live Zoom sessions will be recorded and made available on the course D2L site soon after the live class ends; attendance at the live Zoom classes is not required (i.e. is optional), but viewing the recordings is strongly recommended for those who may be unable to attend one (or several) live classes. Most other learning activities will be asynchronous, including reading texts in preparation for class.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Read texts in later Middle English with full understanding and texts in earlier Middle English with the help of glosses.
2. Understand the basics of Middle English grammar and phonetics.
3. Translate late 14th C. texts in the London dialect into modern English.
4. Know the broad outlines of later medieval history, social organization including class structures, political conflicts, racial ideas, gender assumptions, etc.; and apply that knowledge to the interpretation of texts.
5. Identify the similarities and differences between medieval social ideas and those prevalent in 21st C. society and culture.
6. Frame arguments about interpretation of texts that take into account medieval society, history, culture, and linguistic structures.

TEXT:

Black, Joseph, et al. The Medieval Period. 3rd ed. The Broadview Anthology of British Literature Vol. 1. Broadview Press, 2015.

(This textbook has an online companion which students who buy the text new from the bookstore will get an access code to. A few course readings will be assigned from that online companion, but the instructor will suggest online alternatives for students who have purchased a used copy of the book and therefore do not have the access code.)

LEARNING TECHNOLOGIES AND REQUIREMENTS

There is a D2L site for this course which contains relevant class resources and materials (see d2L.ucalgary.ca).

In order to successfully engage in their learning experiences at the University of Calgary, students taking online, remote and blended courses are required to have reliable access to the following technology:

- A computer with a supported operating system, as well as the latest security, and malware updates;
- A current and updated web browser;
- Webcam (built-in or external);
- Microphone and speaker (built-in or external), or headset with microphone;
- Current antivirus and/or firewall software enabled;
- Broadband internet connection.

Most current laptops will have a built-in webcam, speaker and microphone.

Assignments and Evaluation:

Take-home translations, 4 in all, of equal value 20% of course grade

Middle English test 27 May 25% of course grade

This test asks you to translate a set Middle English text by Chaucer or Gower (so late 14th C. London dialect) into modern English. You have a 24 hour window to complete the test, which will take most students no more than 45 minutes.

Essay assignment due 3 June 30% of course grade

Possible topics will be posted to D2L on 11 May, for this ~2000 word essay. Requests for extensions will be considered for this assignment, but not beyond the end of term, 17 June.

Final examination

in examination period

25% of course grade

This REGISTRAR-SCHEDULED examination on D2L has two sections of equal value: 1) an essay section asking you to compare two texts (choice of three set comparisons); 2) a short answer section asking you to define 4 (of 8) historical, cultural, or social terms or concepts from the later medieval period and to discuss each term's relevance to one or more Middle English texts. Students must be available for this exam to the end of the examination period, 23 June. This is a nominally two-hour examination (plus required extra time, with a 24 hour window for completion).

There are no extra-credit assignments in this course.

All assignments must be submitted electronically via D2L.

It is not necessary to submit all assignments to receive a passing grade in the course.

Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each business day [not class] that the assignment is overdue. No assignments will be accepted one week past the assignment deadline without the prior consent of the instructor.

CONDUCT

Students and academic staff are expected to demonstrate behaviour in class that promotes and maintains a positive and productive learning environment. As members of the University community, students and academic staff are expected to demonstrate conduct that is consistent with the University of Calgary Calendar, the Code of Conduct and Non-Academic Misconduct policy and procedures, which can be found at:
<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>

USE OF INTERNET AND ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION DEVICES IN CLASS

Students are responsible for being aware of the University's Internet and email use policy, which can be found at <https://ucalgary.ca/legal-services/sites/default/files/teams/1/Policies-Acceptable-Use-of-Electronic-Resources-and-Information-Policy.pdf>

GUIDELINES FOR ZOOM SESSIONS

Zoom is a video conferencing program that will allow us to meet at specific times for a "live" video conference, so that we can have the opportunity to meet each other virtually and discuss relevant course topics as a learning community.

To help ensure Zoom sessions are private, do not share the Zoom link or password with others, or on any social media platforms. Zoom links and passwords are only intended for students registered in the course. Zoom recordings and materials presented in Zoom, including any teaching materials, must not be shared, distributed or published without the instructor's permission.

The use of video conferencing programs relies on participants to act ethically, honestly and with integrity; and in accordance with the principles of fairness, good faith, and respect (as per the Code of Conduct). When entering Zoom, you play a role in helping create an effective, safe and respectful learning environment. Please be mindful of how your behaviour in these sessions may affect others. Participants are required to use names officially associated with their UCID (legal or preferred names listed in the Student Centre) when engaging in these activities. Instructors/moderators can remove those whose names do not appear on class rosters. Non-compliance may be investigated under relevant University of Calgary conduct policies (e.g. Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy). If participants have difficulties complying with this requirement, they should email the instructor of the class explaining why, so the instructor may consider whether to grant an exception, and on what terms. For more information on how to get the most out of your Zoom sessions visit:

<https://elearn.ucalgary.ca/guidelines-for-zoom/>.

Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions. Students are not required to turn on their camera at any time, but should be aware that in the absence of visual cues from your facial expression or body language, complex communications such as those involving jokes, irony, and sarcasm may be misinterpreted. Please leave Zoom on mute unless and until you wish to contribute to class discussion, and mute again after you have finished speaking.

The instructor will record all Zoom class sessions for the purposes of supporting student learning in this class – and will make the recording available for review of the session and for students who miss a session, shortly after the live Zoom class. These recordings will be used to support student learning only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.

Grading:

The University's 4-point grade scale will be used in this class.

<https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-1-1.html>

A+/A (4.0); A- (3.7); B+ (3.3); B (3.0); B- (2.7); C+ (2.3); C (2.0); C- (1.7); D+ (1.3); D (1.0); F (0)

All calculations will be done using the GPA values associated with that scale. The instructor has the right to round up or down when the average of term work and final examination falls between two values on the scale.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the four-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university.

“Plagiarism” occurs when a Student presents the ideas, expression of ideas or work of another individual as the Student’s own. Work may include algorithms, code, composition, data, methods, design, formulae, images, indigenous oral teachings, art and ceremonies, organization of ideas, and scientific and mathematical concepts.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE POLICY

The University recognizes that all members of the University Community should be able to learn, work, teach and live in an environment where they are free from harassment, discrimination, and violence. The University of Calgary's sexual violence policy guides us in how we respond to incidents of sexual violence, including supports available to those who have experienced or witnessed sexual violence, or those who are alleged to have committed sexual violence. It provides clear response procedures and timelines, defines complex concepts, and addresses incidents that occur off-campus in certain circumstances. Please see the policy available at <https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/sexual-violence-policy.pdf>

Your responses make a difference – please participate in USRI Surveys."

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:
 - a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
 - b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
 - c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
 - d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

<http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/>

Students who are absent from class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructors as soon as possible. Instructors may request that evidence in the form of documentation be provided. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, instructors may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test. For information on possible forms of documentation, including statutory declarations, please see <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html>.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar

“The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community”. The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a “positive and productive learning and working environment.” This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons:

students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that “seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff”. Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
