

FACULTY OF ARTS
DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH
COURSE OUTLINE

ENGLISH 406 01

WINTER 2016

COURSE TITLE: Middle English Literature: Selected Works
(M/W 14:00-15:15 in SA 147)

Instructor: Dr. Murray McGillivray

Office: SS 1134

Phone: 403-220-4678

E-mail: mmcgilli@ucalgary.ca

Office hours: Wed 1:00-2:00 p.m. or by appointment

Course description:

A study of selected works of Middle English poetry, prose, and drama (read in the original language), excluding Chaucer's Canterbury Tales.

Prerequisite(s): English 302 and either 240 or 340.

Antirequisite(s): Not open to students with credit in English 404.

Texts and readings:

The Broadview Anthology of British Literature. Volume 1: The Medieval Period. 3rd. ed. Ed. Joseph Black et al. Peterborough ON: Broadview, 2015.

Selected readings will also be assigned from the Web site materials associated with the Broadview text (access code with purchase of the volume), and from the Cotton Nero A.x. Project site, www.gawain-ms.ca

Assignments and Evaluation:

In-class and take-home translations: 25%

Translations from Middle English to modern English will be a regular part of in-class activities and of homework.

Translation test 15%

The translation test, on later Middle English, will be scheduled about 5 weeks into the course (specific date TBA) and will require you to translate a short glossed passage from Middle English into modern English.

Group presentation

25%

Groups will do research into aspects of medieval culture and society, and will present the results of their research to the class; point-form notes and a bibliography showing the research accomplished must be submitted the day of presentation.

Term essay

35%

An essay on a topic selected from those provided by the instructor will be due on April 11.

There is no final examination in this class.

Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized (with the loss of a third of a grade (e.g. an A- to B+)) for each business day [not class] that the assignment is overdue.

Please make every effort to take assignments directly to the instructor. If it is not possible to do so, take your assignment to SS 1152 and put it in the dropbox. Your assignment will be date-stamped and placed in the instructor's mailbox. It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the Department office.

Grading system:

The University letter grade system will be used for all assignments. The 4.0 GPA scale will be used for all calculations. A grade of A+ will only be assigned for truly superior performance.

Internet usage:

Students may use the Internet via smart phone, tablet, or laptop computer at any time in the classroom to retrieve information relevant to class discussions in progress. Electronic devices may not be used at all in the final examination or translation test and any use of such a device in those examinations will be presumed to constitute academic misconduct.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. Please refer to the following information and make sure you are familiar with the statement below on plagiarism.

Universal Student Ratings of Instruction (USRI):

"At the University of Calgary, feedback provided by students through the Universal Student Ratings of Instruction (USRI) survey provides valuable information to help with evaluating instruction, enhancing learning and teaching, and selecting courses (www.ucalgary.ca/usri). Your responses make a difference - please participate in USRI Surveys."

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>)

“The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, . . . , to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community”. The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a “positive and productive learning and working environment.”

This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that “seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff”. Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
