Winter Term 2013

COURSE TITLE: Theoretical and Cultural Studies: Performance/Performativity

Instructor: Dr. Susan Bennett

Office: SS1038

Phone: 403-220-6450

E-mail: sbennett@ucalgary.ca

Office hours: R 10-12. Students are also welcome to arrange appointments on other days/times by prior arrangement via email.

Tuesday & Thursday classes: 12:30-13:45 SS1153

Course description:

Prerequisite(s): One full-course equivalent in English at the 400 level, or consent of the Department.

This course will start with JL Austin's first formulations of "performativity" and work through its uptake in more contemporary critical theory. Historicization of this much-deployed term of "performativity" will lead towards engagement with recent performance theory and its claims to understanding contemporary social, cultural and political practices.

Texts and readings: James Loxley's Performativity (Routledge) is required. There will also be a list of readings posted to Blackboard that students are able to access through electronic resources held by the Taylor Family Digital Library. Students are expected to have completed readings assigned for a class before attending that class and to be able to engage in a discussion of the material.

Assignments and Evaluation:

Presentation 20% – Each student will make a short presentation based on assigned readings for a particular class.

In-class test – 20%

Essay 25% – a 1500 word essay on a topic chosen from a list provided by the instructor.

Research paper 35% – a 2500 word research paper, including bibliography. Students will devise a research paper involving their own selection of case study with which to explore the full range of theory studied.

There will be no Registrar-scheduled Final Exam in this course.

Students must complete all assignments in order to qualify for a passing grade in this course. . If you are absent from the in-class tests or late with assignments for medical reasons, a medical certificate will be required to confirm the absence/delay for health reasons. Please see section E.3 Attendance in the Calendar for further information.

The essay and research paper must be submitted electronically and have the final word count indicated on the first page. Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized (with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each business day [not class] that the assignment is overdue.

It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause.

Grading system:

The University of Calgary's four-point Undergraduate Grading System, as described in the Calendar (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/f-2.html>), will be used in this course.

□ A+/A (4.0); A- (3.7); B+ (3.3); B (3.0); B- (2.7); C+ (2.3); C (2.0); C- (1.7); D+ (1.3); D (1.0); F (0)

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1), instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the four-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

90 + %	A+	4.0
85 – 89 %	A	4.0
80 – 84 %	A–	3.7
77 – 79 %	B+	3.3
74 – 76 %	B	3.0
70 – 73 %	B–	2.7
67 – 69 %	C+	2.3
64 – 66 %	C	2.0
60 – 63 %	C–	1.7
55 – 59 %	D+	1.3
50 – 54 %	D	1.0
0 – 49 %	F	0

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>) "The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community". The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a "positive and productive learning and working environment." This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that "seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff". Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
