Course description:

In his book In Postcolonial London: Rewriting the Metropolis John McLeod describes an emerging body of contemporary British writing that is “confident, cognizant of its transcultural past, optimistic, full of creative energies nurtured from the conjunction of different times and places in both city and self.” This course will explore the contemporary moment in British literature through several questions and issues. How are “England and Englishness” to be understood in a time when successive waves of immigration have transformed the population? What strategies of representation are deployed to depict the tensions and contradictions within contemporary Britain? How are canonical modernist texts rewritten and refunctioned for the late twentieth and early twenty-first centuries?

The narratives studied will include those from what has been called “the long nineties” (the period from the breakup of the Soviet Union in 1989 to the attack on the World Trade Center on September 11, 2001) to the first decades of the twenty-first century. Among the issues addressed will be questions about the representation of history and its implications (Swift); the new multicultural Britain (Ali, Smith); the afterlife of empire (Smith, Lewycka); the rewriting of the canon of English literature (McEwan, Ali); space and national identity (Lessing, Smith); the migration of peoples and undocumented labour (Lewycka, Kunzru, Ali). A goal of this course will be to give students experience in reading and assessing both literary theory and secondary writings on fiction.

Texts and readings:

Doris Lessing, The Fifth Child.

McEwan, Ian. Saturday.

Swift, Graham. Waterland.

Kunzru, Hari. Transmission.

Ali, Monica. Brick Lane.

Lewycka, Marina. Strawberry Fields.

Smith, Zadie. White Teeth.

Plus selections of short fiction and critical readings as assigned.

Assignments and Evaluation

Short Essay (2-3 pages; about 750 words)	15%
Seminar presentation, based on one of the fiction readings (written version handed in)	20%
Research essay Proposal (300 words)	10%
Research essay (4000—5000 words)	45%

	100%

The participation grade recognizes that knowledge is a collective creation and that everyone benefits from the participation of class members. I expect members of the class to attend having completed the assigned readings and to participate in discussions.

There is no registrar-scheduled examination in this course.

It is not necessary to complete all assignments to receive a passing grade in the course.

There are normally no extra-credit assignments.

Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized with the loss of a third of a grade (an A- to B+) for each business day [not class] that the assignment is overdue.

If you are not able to make a deadline because of illness, family crisis or other unusual situation, please contact me as soon as possible.

Please make every effort to take assignments directly to the instructor. If it is not possible to do so, take your assignment to SS 1152 and put it in the drop box. Your assignment will be date-stamped and placed in the instructor's mailbox. It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the Department office.

Grading system:

Grades are calculated according to the 4 point scale used in the Graduate Calendar:

<https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/grad/current/gs-g-1.html>

Grade	Grade Point Value	Graduate Description
A+	4.00	Outstanding
A	4.00	Excellent-superior performance showing comprehensive understanding of the subject matter
A-	3.70	Very good performance
B+	3.30	Good performance
B	3.00	Satisfactory performance
B-	2.70	Minimum pass for students in Faculty of Graduate Studies
C+	2.30	All grades below B- are indicative of failure at the graduate level and cannot be counted towards

		Faculty of Graduate Studies course requirements.
C	2.00
C-	1.70
D+	1.30
D	1.00
F	0.00

Please note: A B- is considered a minimum pass for students in the Faculty of Graduate Studies.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the four-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

In the case of Instructors using numerical marks in the grading of term work, the departmental conversion chart applies.

90 + %	A+	4.0
85 – 89 %	A	4.0
80 – 84 %	A–	3.7
77 – 79 %	B+	3.3
74 – 76 %	B	3.0
70 – 73 %	B–	2.7
67 – 69 %	C+	2.3
64 – 66 %	C	2.0
60 – 63 %	C–	1.7
55 – 59 %	D+	1.3
50 – 54 %	D	1.0
0 – 49 %	F	0

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>) "The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community". The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a "positive and productive learning and working environment." This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that "seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff". Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
