DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

ENGLISH 609.34-02

WINTER 2013

COURSE TITLE: The Faerie Queen

Instructor: J. R. Ellis

Office: SS 1042

Phone: 220-4359

E-mail: jellis@ucalgary.ca

Office hours: Wednesday 3:00 – 4:00 or by appointment

Course description:

This course will use contemporary theories of place and movement to explore Edmund Spenser's epic The Faerie Queene. We will be reading at least three of the six books, exploring such things as the role of landscape in allegory and epic, the representation of bodies in space and in motion, and historical shifts in the experience of space. Key concepts to be explored will include M. M. Bakhtin's theory of the chronotope, Henri Lefebvre's rhythmanalysis and readings concerning the New Mobilities Paradigm.

Texts and readings:

Spenser, Edmund. The Faerie Queene. Ed. A. C. Hamilton. 2nd Rev. Ed. London: Longman, 2006.

Bakhtin, M.M. The Dialogic Imagination. Texas UP, 1981.

Cresswell, Tim. Place: A Short Introduction. Oxford: Blackwell, 2004.

Lefebvre, Henri. Rhythmanalysis. New York: Continuum, 2004.

[Other texts may be distributed in class or via BlackBoard]

Assignments and Evaluation:

Seminar presentation (theory): 10%

Seminar presentation (poetry): 30%

Seminar response: 10%

Final essay, 20-25 pp.: 50%

There is no exam in this class.

Assignments must be submitted in class; electronic submissions are not permitted without prior permission from the instructor.

Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized (e.g. with the loss of a third of a grade for each day [(not class)] that the assignment is overdue), unless some alternative arrangements have been made, or except in the case of medical or family emergency.

*Note: Please make all efforts to take assignments directly to the instructor. If it is not possible to do so, take your assignment to SS1152 and place it in the drop-box. Your assignment will then be date-stamped and placed in your instructor's mailbox. Please keep a copy of your assignment in case of loss by any cause. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the Department office.

Grading system:

The following grading system is used in this course:

90 + %	A+	4.0
85 – 89 %	A	4.0
80 – 84 %	A–	3.7
77 – 79 %	B+	3.3
74 – 76 %	B	3.0
70 – 73 %	B–	2.7
67 – 69 %	C+	2.3
64 – 66 %	C	2.0
60 – 63 %	C–	1.7
55 – 59 %	D+	1.3
50 – 54 %	D	1.0
0 – 49 %	F	0

Please note that, according to the University Calendar (F.1), instructors may use their discretion when rounding upwards or downwards when the average of term work and exams is between two letter grades.

Although the A+ is solely an honorific that entails no additional points in the 4-point system, the course instructor will employ this mark to distinguish superlative work that exceeds expectations in style, correctness, intellectual depth and breadth, sophistication, and originality.

Before appealing a grade, please consult with the official interpretations of these grades in the university calendar:

Policy on Electronic Devices:

Consulting or using electronic devices of any kind (laptop, tablet computer, PDA, cell phone, etc.) is not permitted in class, unless required for reasons of academic accomodation (please speak to me if this is the case). All devices should be switched off before the beginning of class.

Email Policy:

I am happy to reply to email enquiries. However, please be aware that I only answer emails during business hours (Monday to Friday, 9 to 5). I do not respond to messages evenings or weekends.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. Please refer to the following information and make sure you are familiar with the statement below on plagiarism.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>) "The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community". The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a "positive and productive learning and working environment." This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that "seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff". Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
