ENGLISH 609-S02 Topic 43
COURSE TITLE: Studies in a Literary Period: Geoffrey Chaucer
R 10:00-12:45 SS 1015

FALL 2016

Instructor: Murray McGillivray

Office: SS 1134

Phone: 403-607-0215 cell

E-mail: mmcgilli@ucalgary.ca

Office hours: Thursday, 9:00 a.m.

Course description: One of the major figures in the historical canon and long considered the "father of English poetry," Geoffrey Chaucer continues to inspire contemporary critics and authors as a locus of engagement, provoking such diverse responses as Glen Burger's Chaucer's Queer Nation and Angie Abdou's novel The Canterbury Trail. In this course, we will read most of the works of Chaucer, including Troilus and Criseyde and The Canterbury Tales, and consider them in the various contexts that are available to us, including relevant historical documents, reader responses in different periods, modern critical schools, and creative adaptations such as Bowdlerizings, retellings, trans-mediations, and misappropriations. Students have the option of submitting a creative work in lieu of a term essay.

Texts and readings:

Benson, Larry D., ed. The Riverside Chaucer. 3rd ed. (either the Houghton Mifflin original 1987 hardback or later paperback editions of this from various publishers are acceptable). This text is out of print and must be purchased online.

Other online or distributed materials as assigned.

Assignments and Evaluation:

Seminar leadership: 30%

Each student will lead two seminars of approximately 75 minute length, the first introducing one of the tales from Chaucer's Canterbury Tales along with at least one critical or creative response to that tale; the second focused on the student's final project. The seminars will each count for 15% of the final grade. The second seminar may either consist of the presentation of a conference paper length version of the final project, distributed to the class in advance, or of an introduction to the primary text(s) and critical texts the student intends to engage in the final project, with those texts assigned as reading in advance to fellow class members.

Middle English exam: 20%

Approximately the fifth week of term, depending on student progress, a half-hour examination will test students' ability to read and translate Chaucer's Middle English.

Final Project (term essay or creative project): 50%

Each student will prepare a final project, which may either be an academic essay or (for students intending to present a creative thesis in English and with permission of the instructor) a creative response to the works of Geoffrey Chaucer. Creative projects must be cleared with the instructor early on, ideally by the week after the Middle English exam. All students, whether preparing an essay or a creative project, must meet with the instructor over the final project twice, once with an idea or proposal, next with an outline or draft. Critical or theoretical essays should be about 6250 words (minus bibliography but including notes); creative projects may vary in length, but must represent an equivalent amount of effort and engagement. The term essay or creative project is due on the last day of classes, Friday, December 9.

There will be no Registrar scheduled exam.

Grades will be administered as follows:

GRADUATE GRADING SYSTEM FOR COURSE FINAL GRADES

Grade	Grade Point Value	Graduate Description
A+	4.00	Outstanding
A	4.00	Excellent - superior performance showing comprehensive understanding of the subject matter.
A-	3.70	Very good performance
B+	3.30	Good performance
B	3.00	Satisfactory performance
B-	2.70	Minimum pass for students in the Faculty of Graduate Studies
C+	2.30	All grades below "B-" are indicative of failure at the graduate level and cannot be counted toward Faculty of Graduate Studies course requirements. Individual programs may require a higher passing grade.
C	2.00
C-	1.70
D+	1.30
D	1.00
F	0.00

The grade of A+ will be reserved for work that is outstanding rather than merely excellent. Note that a grade below B- is a failing grade in a graduate course.

In the case of Instructors using numerical marks in the grading of term work, the departmental conversion chart applies.

90 + %	A+	4.0
85 – 89 %	A	4.0
80 – 84 %	A–	3.7
77 – 79 %	B+	3.3
74 – 76 %	B	3.0
70 – 73 %	B–	2.7
67 – 69 %	C+	2.3
64 – 66 %	C	2.0
60 – 63 %	C–	1.7
55 – 59 %	D+	1.3
50 – 54 %	D	1.0
0 – 49 %	F	0

There will be no grade penalty for final projects submitted by one day before my grading deadline for the course (TBA), but the amount of feedback I am able to give will rapidly diminish after the submission deadline of December 9. Projects submitted after one day before my grading deadline for the course without a previously-arranged extension (or deferral of term work) will be penalized one third of a grade (e.g. A- to B+) for each calendar day (NOT business day) that the assignment is overdue.

Please make every effort to take assignments directly to the instructor. If it is not possible to do so, take your assignment to SS 1152 and put it in the dropbox. Your assignment will be date-stamped and placed in the instructor's mailbox. It is your responsibility to keep a copy of all assignments in case of loss by any cause. Assignments cannot be returned by staff in the Department office.

Electronic devices may be used in this class except during the Middle English exam, when they are strictly prohibited and use of such a device (for any purpose whatsoever at that time) will be considered academic misconduct.

Plagiarism:

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possible suspension or expulsion from the university. ## PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is an extremely serious offence. Please read the following information carefully. The penalty routinely recommended by the English Department for documented plagiarism is failure of the course in which the offence occurred; academic probation is also routinely applied at the Faculty level. Suspension or expulsion can result from severe or repeated plagiarism.

The University Calendar states:

1. Plagiarism - Essentially plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- (a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.

Plagiarism occurs when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, or when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. Citing your sources in a bibliography is not enough, because a bibliography does not establish which parts of a student's work are taken from other sources. MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose. Advice on adequate documentation can be found at the following web sites:

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH STATEMENT ON PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT

According to the University Calendar, (<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j.html>) "The University of Calgary community has undertaken to be guided by the following statements of purpose and values: to promote free inquiry and debate, to act as a community of scholars, ..., to respect, appreciate, and encourage diversity, [and] to display care and concern for community". The Department of English, like the university as a whole, is committed to a "positive and productive learning and working environment." This environment is characterized by appreciation and encouragement of diversity and respect for the dignity of all persons: students, support staff, and faculty. The department will not tolerate unacceptable behaviour, such as threatening gestures, threatening or abusive verbal or written communication (including e-mails), or any conduct that "seriously disrupts the lawful education and related activities of students and/or university staff". Any cases of such misconduct should be reported immediately to the department Head, who, depending on the nature and severity of the incident, may then take further appropriate action.
