Course Description

An introduction to architecture as a creative and technical endeavor that shapes the spaces and places in which we live. An examination of the purposes, intentions, processes, and products of architecture and how they can positively impact climate change, social equity, and quality of life. Students will develop an understanding of the social, cultural, historical, technological, economic, and natural contexts influencing the design of buildings and cities. A range of guest lecturers and different types of assignments will expose the students to a wide variety of perspectives and practices, as well as offer an opportunity to explore basic design ideas and activities.

Course Hours: 3 units; (2-1Tutorial)

Online Delivery

This course will take place both in-person and online via Desire2Learn (D2L) and Zoom. Students are required to participate in the asynchronous learning tasks using the D2L learning environment and synchronous Zoom sessions. If unable to participate live due to unforeseen circumstances, inform the instructor in advance to work out an alternative participation activity (e.g., watch the recordings, submit a brief reflection, and actively contribute to the follow-up online discussion).

Course Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students will know and be able to:

1. Outline the things that architects and others do to produce buildings. By extension, they will be able to tell what architecture students learn and do.
2. Summarize and discuss current issues in architecture and design, based on class lectures, public events, and/or news sources.
3. Describe (orally, textually, graphically) and interpret key aesthetic, social, technological, and other characteristics of buildings.
4. Represent graphically and analyze a space of interest to them.
5. Explore ways to adapt or modify that same space.

Assessment and Evaluation Information

Means of Evaluation:

During the semester, each student will participate in section/group discussions, write brief personal reflections for each lecture, produce two short papers, give one short presentation in their tutorial discussion group, produce one drawing representing an existing space/context, one annotated graphic analysis of that space/context, and one basic design project for that space/context.

The papers (250-300 words) will be personal responses to questions posed to the students, designed to have them critically reflect on their own relationships with and interests in the field of architecture. The short presentation will be a description and analysis of an architecturally significant building relative to the subject matter of the course. The existing context drawing will be of (a portion of) a space/context they consider interesting, while the annotated graphic analysis and the design assignment will apply ideas from the course to the modification of that same space/context. There will also be participation in group discussion during tutorial sessions, as well as brief written personal reflections on each lecture (100-200 words), which will make up a part of the student's grade.

More detailed handouts specific to each assignment will be given out during the semester.

Attendance and Participation Expectations:

Each student is expected to attend and participate where appropriate in all lectures. They are also required to prepare for and attend all tutorial discussion groups, where their participation in group discussion will be evaluated. This will contribute 10% to the student's overall grade.

Guidelines for Submitting Assignments:

Each assignment shall be submitted digitally as a PDF, uploaded to the appropriate dropbox on the course D2L site. Some assignments may also be required to be submitted in hard copy (you will be notified in advance about this requirement). Assignments are to be submitted on the specified due date, by the beginning of the lecture at 12:00 pm or the tutorial session at 11:00 or 12:00pm (depending on your tutorial time).

Final Examinations:

There will be no examinations for this course.

Expectations for Writing:

For written assignments, the quality of the writing will be one of the factors addressed in the grading rubric. Should students feel the need for extra support in this regard, the services provided by the Writing Support, part of the Student Success Centre, can be utilized by all undergraduate and graduate students.

Late Assignments:

Late assignments will be docked a half letter grade per day late (e.g. B+ to B).

Grading Scale
Grade	Grade Point	Percent Range	Description
A+	4.0	95-100	Outstanding - evaluated by instructor
A	4.0	90-94.99	Excellent - superior performance showing comprehensive understanding of the subject matter
A-	3.7	85-89.99
B+	3.3	80-84.99
B	3.0	75-79.99	Good - clearly above average performance with knowledge of subject matter generally complete
B-	2.7	70-74.99
C+	2.3	65-69.99
C	2.0	60-64.99	Satisfactory - basic understanding of the subject matter
C-	1.7	55-59.99	Receipt of grade point average of 1.70 may not be sufficient for promotion of graduation (see individual undergraduate faculty regulations)
D+	1.3	50-54.99
D	1.0	45-49.99	Minimal pass - marginal performance; generally insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the same subject
F	0.0	0-44.99	Fail - unsatisfactory performance or failure to meet course requirements

Guidelines for Zoom Sessions

Zoom is a video conferencing program that will allow us to meet at specific times for a “live” video conference, so that we can have the opportunity to meet each other virtually and discuss relevant course topics as a learning community.

To help ensure Zoom sessions are private, do not share the Zoom link or password with others, or on any social media platforms. Zoom links and passwords are only intended for students registered in the course. Zoom recordings and materials presented in Zoom, including any teaching materials, must not be shared, distributed or published without the instructor’s permission.

The use of video conferencing programs relies on participants to act ethically, honestly and with integrity; and in accordance with the principles of fairness, good faith, and respect (as per the Code of Conduct). When entering Zoom or other video conferencing sessions (such as MS Teams), you play a role in helping create an effective, safe and respectful learning environment. Please be mindful of how your behaviour in these sessions may affect others. Participants are required to use names officially associated with their UCID (legal or preferred names listed in the Student Centre) when engaging in these activities. Instructors/moderators can remove those whose names do not appear on class rosters. Non-compliance may be investigated under relevant University of Calgary conduct policies (e.g. Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy). If participants have difficulties complying with this requirement, they should email the instructor of the class explaining why, so the instructor may consider whether to grant an exception, and on what terms. For more information on how to get the most out of your zoom sessions visit: <https://elearn.ucalgary.ca/guidelines-for-zoom/>

If you are unable to attend a Zoom session, please contact your instructor in advance to arrange an alternative activity for the missed session (e.g., to review the recorded session). Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions. Students will be advised by their instructor when they are expected to turn on their webcam (for group work, presentations, etc.).

The instructor may record online Zoom class sessions for the purposes of supporting student learning in this class – such as making the recording available for review of the session or for students who miss a session. Students will be advised before the instructor initiates a recording of a Zoom session. These recordings will be used to support student learning only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE POLICY

The University recognizes that all members of the University Community should be able to learn, work, teach and live in an environment where they are free from harassment, discrimination, and violence. The University of Calgary's sexual violence policy guides us in how we respond to incidents of sexual violence, including supports available to those who have experienced or witnessed sexual violence, or those who are alleged to have committed sexual violence.
