Official Course Description

Introduces mapping technologies and digital spatial data for solving geographical problems that focus on how to collect, manage, analyze, and communicate diverse spatial data. Topics include geographic information systems (GIS), remote sensing, spatial statistics, geovisualization, cartography, and web mapping.

Course Objectives

The goals of this course are to explore spatial thinking and introduce geospatial technologies that underpin contemporary digital society. Together, we will examine the use of geospatial data and technologies in everyday life. Some key applications include indigenous land, climate change, public health, and more. Topics will highlight how geospatial technologies enhance our understanding of the world around us.

Course Learning Outcomes

Additional Course Information

Tutorial Assignments will be submitted through the D2L course page and will be automatically timestamped. These components will be considered late if the timestamp is later than the due date and time. Deliverables received within 1 minute to 24 hours of the due date will be assessed a 20% penalty. This means if your assignment receives a grade of 88% it will be entered as 68% (88 - 20 = 68) on the grade sheet. If it is received between 24 and 48 hours, it will be assessed a 40% penalty. If the assignment is received greater than 48 hours from the due date it will be assessed a penalty of 60%, and so forth.

If you anticipate missing or being unable to complete one of the scheduled course components (test or tutorial assignment) and possess a legitimate explanation, please email Dr. Hugenholtz (for tests) or one of the TAs (for tutorials) before the commencement of the test or the scheduled due date of the tutorial assignment. If the justification is accepted, you may be granted an extension.

University of Calgary Academic Integrity Policy

Academic integrity is the foundation of the development and acquisition of knowledge and is based on values of honesty, trust, responsibility, and respect. We expect members of our community to act with integrity. The University Calendar includes a statement on the principles of conduct expected of all members of the university community (including students, faculty, administrators, any category of staff, practicum supervisors, and volunteers), whether on or off university property. This statement applies in all situations where members of the university community are acting in their university capacities.

Plagiarism, Cheating, and Student Misconduct

Academic dishonesty is not an acceptable activity at the University of Calgary, and students are strongly advised to read the Student Misconduct section in the University Calendar at: www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-3.html. Often, students are unaware of what constitutes academic dishonesty or plagiarism. The most common are (1) presenting another student's work as your own, (2) presenting an author's work or ideas as your own without adequate citation, and (3) using work completed for another course. Such activities will not be tolerated in this course, and students suspected of academic misconduct will be dealt with according to the procedures outlined in the calendar at: https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/university-policies-procedures/student-academic-misconduct-procedure

For information on what constitutes plagiarism and how to properly cite the work of others, the Department of Geography recommends that they attend Academic Integrity workshops offered through the Student Success Centre: https://www.ucalgary.ca/student-services/student-success/learning/academic-integrity

Term assignments will be returned to students individually, during class or during the instructor's office hours; if students are unable to pick up their assignments from the instructor, they must provide the instructor with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to be used for the return of the assignment. Grades and assignments will not be available at the Department of Geography's main office and assignments cannot be dropped off at the Department Office.

Posting of Grades and Picking-up of Assignments

Graded assignments will be returned by the instructor or teaching assistant personally during scheduled lecture or laboratory periods, unless they are made available electronically through the course D2L webpage.

Academic Accommodations

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations, according to the university policies and procedures listed in the University Calendar. The student accommodation policy can be found at: https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/b-6-1.html
