Topics in Remote Sensing

Section	Days	Time	Location
LEC01	MoWe	11:00 - 11:50	EEEL 151
LAB01	Th	11:00 - 12:50	ES 407

Instructor: Mryka Hall-Beyer	Office: ES 458
Telephone: 220 6586	Email: mhallbey@ucalgary.ca

Please note: The appropriate emergency evacuation assembly point for all classes taught in EEEL and Earth Sciences is ICT Food Court.

Official Course Description:

Advanced topics of current interest in one or more of remote sensing, geographic information science and spatial statistics. Chosen topics vary by session and focus on integrating raster and vector systems.

The Fall 2012 session will concentrate on learning about the interface between geological academic and industry community and remote sensing techniques. We will examine the theoretical bases for remote sensing as they constrain geological questions, and look at the practical applications possible with available imagery and image processing techniques. Basic geological principles and remote sensing principles will be taught as necessary to the background of students enrolled.

Grading (Weighting):

Three labs @ 15%	45%
Teaching presentation	25%
Paper or project	30%
Total	100%

There is no final examination for this course. All three components listed above must be completed; overall course grade will consist of the average. A student may pass with an F grade if their overall average is passing and the component receiving an F was completed.

Grading System:

Letter grades will be awarded for each course component and the average determined from their GPA equivalents. The official grading scheme of the university will be used (Course Information Section in the University Calendar):

A+	4.00	Outstanding performance
A	4.00	Excellent-superior performance, showing comprehensive understanding of subject
A-	3.70	↑
B+	3.30	↑
B	3.00	Good - clearly above average performance
B-	2.70	↑
C+	2.30	↑
C	2.00	Satisfactory performance – basic understanding of the subject
C-	1.70
D+	1.30
D	1.00	Minimal Pass-marginal performance
F	0	Fail - - poor performance

Writing across the Curriculum

Writing skills are not exclusive to English courses and, in fact, should cross all disciplines. The University supports the belief that throughout their University careers, students should be taught how to write well so that when they graduate their writing abilities will be far above the minimal standards required at entrance. Consistent with this belief, students are expected to do a substantial amount of writing in their University courses and, where appropriate, members of faculty can and should use writing and the grading thereof as a factor in the evaluation of student work. The services provided by the Writing Centre in the Effective Writing Office can be utilized by all undergraduate and graduate students who feel they require further assistance.

Principles of conduct

The University of Calgary Calendar includes a statement on the Principles of conduct expected of all members of the University community (including students, faculty, administrators, any category of staff, practicum supervisors and volunteers) whether on or off the University's property. This statement applies in all situations where the members of the University community are acting in their University capacities. All Members of the University Community have a responsibility to familiarize themselves with this statement which is available at: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/j-2.html>

Plagiarism

Academic dishonesty is not an acceptable activity at the University of Calgary and students are strongly advised to read the Student Misconduct section in the University Calendar. Quite often, students are unaware of what constitutes academic dishonesty or plagiarism. The most common are 1) presenting another student's work as your own 2) presenting an author's work or ideas as your own without proper referencing and 3) using work completed for another course. This activity will not be tolerated in this course and students conducting themselves in this manner will be dealt with according to the procedures outlined in the calendar.

Disability Resource Centre Accommodations

If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre, please contact their office at 220-8237. Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. You are also required to discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of this course.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy

FOIP: The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) legislation disallows the practice of having students retrieve assignments from a public place, e.g., outside instructor's office, the department office, etc. Term assignments will be returned to students individually, during class or during the instructor's office hours; if students are unable to pick up their assignments from the instructor, they provide the instructor with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to be used for the return of the assignment.

Re: Posting of Grades and Picking-up of Assignments

- All assignments will be handles on Blackboard.
- Their own grades will be available to each student on Blackboard by password access. Grades will not be available at Geography's main office.
