HTST 338 Modern Britain 1714 to Present Winter 2021

Instructor: Dr. Warren Elofson

Email: elofson@ucalgary.ca

Office Hours: by Zoom or email (elofson@ucalgary.ca), Wednesday 10:00 am -1:00 pm.
Email: anytime (response may not be immediate).

Course Delivery: Online, Synchronous (link provided by email invitation).

Synchronous Class Times: TuThr – 11:00 – 12:15 pm

Description

This course will introduce students to topics such as the rise of the fiscal-military and social welfare states; nationalism and imperialism; the development of the middle and working classes; and the emergence of modern British society, economy, politics and constitution. The course will explore in particular the forces and processes of change.

Our ultimate challenge will be to determine when (and also if) Great Britain became a genuine working democracy.

The course will be presented to students in lectures, assigned readings and group/classroom discussions.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, successful students will be able to:

- 1) Identify major themes in the development of modern Britain
- 2) Contribute to classroom discussions
- 3) Work effectively on a group project

- 4) Critically assess published writing
- 5) Argue a position in an historical debate

Assessment & Grading

Class participation 10%

Based on contribution to group discussions and final group paper.

Group Discussions 30%

Class will be divided into groups of five to seven students for discussions every third class (in lieu of a lecture). Dr. Elofson will post the topic to be discussed under the group discussion heading on the D2L.

One person will act as the scribe and write out the other group members' important comments and conclusions. The write-up will be marked each week. All group members will take their turns as scribe.

Book assessment due Thursday 25 February 2021 30%

Benedict Anderson, Imagined Communities: Reflections on the Origin and Spread of Nationalism, Taylor Family Library Open Access. Your assessment should be 4 – 6 double spaced pages and conform to the The History Student's Handbook: A Short Guide to Writing History Essays © 2019. Further direction will be provided in class and model A level assessments written by students in previous years will be posted under "Content" on the D2L.

Group paper due Thursday 25 April 2021 30%

8 - 10 double spaced pages based on the lectures and materials presented in class and on items in early British newspapers. Further direction will be provided in class.

Students are encouraged to meet together on Zoom or other communication systems to discuss and plan their work. All grading will be by both number and letter and will reflect depth of analysis and writing fluency.

Learning Technologies Requirements

Students in this course will need reliable access to the following technology: A computer with a supported operating system; a current and updated web browser; a microphone and speaker (built-in or external or headset); current antivirus and/or firewall software enabled; broadband internet connection."

Guidelines for Synchronous Sessions

Classes will be conducted synchronously via Zoom at the Registrar-scheduled times listed above. Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions.

The use of video conferencing programs relies on participants to act ethically, honestly, and with integrity; and in accordance with the principles of fairness, good faith, respect, and responsible digital citizenship (as per the Code of Conduct). Only students registered in this course are allowed to be involved in our Zoom meetings.

Students whose D2L and Zoom usernames do not reflect their preferred name or identity can contact the IT Support Centre to have a display name changed in the Active Directory. This will change the name that shows in all online systems, including Zoom and D2L. It will take about 24 hours for the Support Centre to complete the request.

The instructor may record online Zoom class sessions for the purposes of supporting student learning in this class – such as making the recording available for review of the session or for students who miss a session. Students will be advised before the instructor initiates a recording of a Zoom session. These recordings will be used to support student learning only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.]

Inclusiveness, Accommodation, and Classroom Conduct

If you have conditions or circumstances that require accommodations, you are encouraged to contact Student Accessibility Services and to contact me by email or during office hours to discuss reasonable measures that will ensure your success in this course. Such accommodation may include disability (physical or mental wellness, whether visible or not), the need to attend to childcare during class times, the wish to be called a different name or pronoun, assistance with writing, or adjusting deadlines because of personal circumstances.

Research papers must be properly documented according to the format described in The History Student's Handbook.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism occurs when students submit or present the ideas and/or writing of others as if they were their own or when they submit their own work to two different classes. Please see The History Student's Handbook for more details, but to summarize, plagiarism may take several forms:

- Failing to cite sources properly
- Submitting borrowed, purchased, and/or ghostwritten papers
- Submitting one's own work for more than one course without the permission of the instructor(s) involved
- Extensive paraphrasing of one or a few sources, even when referenced properly, unless the essay is a critical analysis of those works

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence, and written work that appears to contain plagiarized passages will not be graded. All such work will be reported to the Faculty of Art's associate deans of students who will apply the penalties specified in the University of Calgary Calendar, Section K: Integrity and Conduct.

Academic Accommodations

Students needing an accommodation because of a disability or medical condition should contact Student Accessibility Services in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities in the Student Accommodation Policy.

Students needing an accommodation based on a protected ground other than disability should contact, preferably in writing, the course instructor.

Copyright

The University of Calgary has opted out of the Access Copyright Interim Tariff proposed by the Copyright Board. Therefore, instructors in all University of Calgary courses will strictly adhere to Copyright Act regulations and the educational exceptions permitted by the Act for both print and digital course material. No copyrighted material may be placed on course D2L or web sites without the prior permission of the copyright holders. In some cases, this may mean that instructors will require you to purchase a print course pack from the University of Calgary bookstore or consult books on reserve at the library. Please see the University of Calgary copyright page.

Sexual Violence Policy

The University recognizes that all members of the University Community should be able to learn, work, teach and live in an environment where they are free from harassment, discrimination, and violence. The University of Calgary's sexual violence policy guides us in how we respond to incidents of sexual violence, including supports available to those who have experienced or witnessed sexual violence, or those who are alleged to have committed sexual violence. It provides clear response procedures and timelines, defines complex concepts, and addresses incidents that occur off-campus in certain circumstances. Please see the sexual violence policy.
