

HISTORY 347
WESTERN CANADA
DR. DOUGLAS FRANCIS
TR 11:00 – 12:15
SS109

This course gives you an excellent overview of the history of Prairie Canada from First Nation settlements to the present. The course will be of interest to students wanting an overview of the history of this important region of Canada, whether history majors or otherwise. It is also a good “feeder course” to upper level specialized courses in Western Canadian history.

The major text for the course is Gerald Friesen, The Canadian Prairies: A History, along with a collection of articles which offer interesting and informative insights on controversial issues in Prairie history.
