Course Description

This class will explore the causes, courses, and consequences of the First World War. This event is of enormous importance in the unfolding of the twentieth century and still has resonance for us today. The course will examine a range of areas, including military, cultural, social, political, economic issues. As the war itself cannot be studied exhaustively, students are encouraged to follow their own interests in determining the topics for their term papers.

Objectives of the Course

The objectives of this course include: the understanding of changing paradigms and world views; the development of critical thinking; the writing of research papers, and fostering the ability to understand the purpose and importance of historical enquiry.

Textbooks and Readings

A History of the Great War, Eric Dorn Brose, OUP 2010

World War I: A History in Documents, Marilyn Shevin-Coetzee and Frans Coetzee, OUP, 2010

Internet and electronic communication device information

Please turn off cell phones and other non-educational devices and use your computers for only academically related purposes.

Assignments and Evaluation

The assignments in the course are designed to balance between written work and examinations. Assignments will build upon each other so that the skills developed in one assignment will be employed in the next. Students must NOT book holidays in the expectation of having an early examination. Accommodation for examinations and assignments will be made only for those in extreme and difficult circumstances. All assignments must be completed in order to pass the course.

Outline and Bibliography

Students will be asked to write an outline – with a thesis statement – of at least one page in length and a bibliography of at least 10 sources (one of which must be a primary source). This assignment is designed to encourage students to begin the process of research for their term paper, but it is not a contract, as your topic may change.

Due: October 9

Value: 10%

Mid-term Examination

Mid-term examination will cover material discussed in the lectures and the readings. It will consist of single-word answers (more objective) and short-answer questions (more subjective).

Date: October 30

Value: 20%

Term Paper

Students will be asked to write a 10-12 page term paper on any subject relating to World War I. This can follow the direction of the outline and bibliography but that is not required. Your essay must contain primary documents and demonstrate historical use of those documents. Length is to be 10-12 pages with standard margins, Times New Roman 12pt. font.

Due: December 4

Value: 40%

Final Examination

The final examination will build upon the elements in the midterm and it will include an essay component. Students will be able to concentrate on essay topics of their choice.

Date: Scheduled by the Registrar

Value: 30%

Registrar-scheduled Final Examination: Yes (Three Hours)

All assignments and exams must be completed or a course grade of F may be assigned at the discretion of the instructor.

Submission of Assignments: Please hand in your essays directly to your TA or instructor if possible in class. If it is not possible to do so, a daytime drop box is available outside the History Department office on the 6th Floor of the Social Science Building. Assignments will be removed the following morning, stamped with the previous day's date, and placed in the instructor's mailbox.

Please include your name and ID number on all assignments. Personal information is collected in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) Act. For more information, see <http://www.ucalgary.ca/secretariat/privacy>

Note: It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment. For courses in which assignments are submitted electronically, it is the student's responsibility to ensure that the correct copy of the assignment is submitted. (Including the version date or version number in your file name may help you avoid submitting the wrong version of your written assignments.)

Policy for Late Assignments

Assignments submitted after the deadline may be penalized with the loss of a grade (e.g.: A- to B+) for each day late.

Schedule of Lectures and Readings

This schedule is a rough guide and might be altered to take into consideration student interest, time constraints or other unforeseen situations. You should note that lectures will supplement the readings and the readings will be necessary background to understand the lectures. I will not be reading the chapters for you in class. My suggestion is that you read the assigned reading for the week before class taking notes of important ideas, issues, people, and events; attend and take notes during lectures, and then re-read the assigned reading for the week. This way not only will you grasp the material more completely, it will be easier for you to study and attain the grade you desire.

Departmental Grading System:

The following percentage-to-letter grade conversion scheme has been adopted for use in all Canadian Studies, History, and Latin American Studies courses.

Percentage	Letter Grade	Grade Point Value	Description
90-100	A+	4.00	Outstanding
85-89	A	4.00	Excellent—superior performance showing comprehensive understanding of subject matter.

77-79	B+	3.30
73-76	B	3.00	Good—clearly above average performance with knowledge of subject matter generally complete.
70-72	B-	2.70
67-69	C+	2.30
63-66	C	2.00	Satisfactory—basic understanding of the subject matter.
60-62	C-	1.70	Receipt of a grade point average of 1.70 may not be sufficient for promotion or graduation.
56-59	D+	1.30	Minimal pass—marginal performance; generally insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the same subject.
50-55	D	1.00
0-49	F	0	Fail—unsatisfactory performance or failure to meet course requirements.

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism occurs when one submits or presents one’s work in a course, or ideas and/or passages in a written piece of work, as if it were one’s own work done expressly for that particular course, when, in fact, it is not. As noted in The History Student’s Handbook, plagiarism may take several forms:

- Failure to cite sources properly may be considered plagiarism. This could include quotations, and wording used from another source but not acknowledged.
- Borrowed, purchased, and/or ghostwritten papers are considered plagiarism, as is submitting one's own work for more than one course without the permission of the instructor(s) involved.
- Extensive paraphrasing of one or a few sources is also considered plagiarism, even when notes are used, unless the essay is a critical analysis of those works.
- The use of notes does not justify the sustained presentation of another author's language and ideas as one's own.

Plagiarism is a serious academic offence and written work that appears to contain plagiarized passages will not be graded. All such work will be reported to the Faculty of Arts' associate deans of students who will apply the penalties specified in the University of Calgary Calendar.
