2. GRADING: Student performance in this course is evaluated on a Pass/Fail basis. This evaluation will be based in part on attendance at weekly seminars, beginning Jan 12, 2010, and in part on participation, both in terms of being a speaker twice per term and attending the sessions of other speakers. Guidelines will be given in class and posted early in the term for what constitutes a passing performance. At the end of the course, the instructor will also identify students who have reached an acceptable level of scientific speaking, and exempt these students from any further Physics 691 Graduate Seminar courses for their current degrees.

3. Missed Components of Term Work. If a student will unavoidably be absent for a Wednesday session, or if an assigned exercise cannot be completed for whatever reason, the student should inform the course instructor as soon as possible.
