Course Description

This course is an introduction to moral philosophy. There are different sorts of moral appraisal. Some concern the evaluation of actions; for example, what makes right acts right? Others concern the evaluation of character. When is a person virtuous? Yet others concern the evaluation of persons. Under what conditions, for instance, is a person blameworthy for something? Still others concern the assessment of lives. When is a life good in itself for a person? We will examine moral theories of each of these types of appraisal.

Required Texts

- (1) James Rachels, The Elements of Moral Philosophy (8th Edition).
- (2) Online readings posted on D2L.

Evaluation

There will be two in-class quizzes and a one-hour, closed-book Registrar-scheduled final exam, each worth 25% of the total grade. In addition, there will be one paper, to be submitted in class, worth 25% of the total grade. Writing and the grading thereof is a factor in evaluation. Writing should be clear, coherent, and to the point. There will be no provisions for “extra-credit.” A passing grade on any particular component of the course is not required for a pass in the course as a whole.
