Course Description

We will begin by discussing the relation between religion and morality. Next we will examine different ideas about what is good for a person. Then we will turn to the two most influential approaches to understanding what actions are right, and their two most famous advocates—John Stuart Mill and Immanuel Kant. Then we will discuss whether morality is objective, and finally we will look at some practical issues: overpopulation, poverty, animals and euthanasia.

Prerequisites: None

Course Learning Objectives:

Throughout the course you will be attempting to come to your own conclusions regarding the issues discussed by assessing arguments for and against the views presented in the readings. You will be developing your ability to comprehend, interpret, and analyse complex sources, as well as to recognise and construct convincing arguments both in writing and orally.

Required Readings:

A selection of readings from classical and contemporary sources is available under Content on D2L.

Course Requirements:

A take-home midterm due Feb 2 worth 20% of the final grade, two papers 1200-1500 words (4-5 pages) due Mar 1 and Apr 13, worth 25% of the final grade each, and a registrar-scheduled final exam, worth 30%.

Participation in class discussion in lectures and tutorials by answering questions and offering thoughts and questions of your own can increase your grade by as much as one grade step (e.g. from B- to B). Cumulative and final grades will be computed by the D2L site using the following scale:

A+	98-100	B+	86-89	C+	74-77	D+	62-65
A	94-97	B	82-85	C	70-73	D	58-61
A-	90-93	B-	78-81	C-	66-69	F	0-57

You are not required to complete all assignments to pass the course, but the grade for a missing assignment is 0.

Late Policy

Midterm and papers are due at 4pm in the drop box outside my office. The final exam is to be submitted digitally. Late papers will be marked down by one grade step for each day of lateness. (The time between Fri and Mon counts as one day.) If you are anticipating any difficulty in completing your assignment in on time you must discuss the problem with me or your T.A. before the due date. If you have finished your paper but are having difficulty in getting it to the dropbox on time you may email me a copy before 4pm on the due date and drop off a hard copy the next day.

Electronic Devices

Those wishing to use a computer to take notes are requested to sit in the back half of the classroom. Cell phones should be used only to access readings through D2L.

Course Website

I shall be using D2L to post short notes, grades, assignments, to confirm what we are reading for the next lecture, and to provide some questions on those readings.
