Four Notes about Email:

- 1) Students wishing to get in touch with either JJM or APS via email should ensure that "Philosophy 279" or some other clearly identifying term occurs in the subject line. Otherwise there is a strong possibility that your message will be deleted unread as spam.
- 2) If you email either JJM or APS with a question which involves symbols, please submit the question as a pdf attachment if possible—email may garble symbols, particularly if combined with MSWord (which can manage such garbling all on its own).
- 3) If you email either JJM or APS to make an appointment please indicate clearly the times when you are available.
- 4) Please make sure your first and last name is clearly included in the body of any email message.

Office Hours: In the period September 12 - December 9 office hours are:

JJM: 13:00-15:00 on the following dates: September 16, 23, 28, October 7, 14, 21, 26, November 4, 9, 18, 23, December 2, 7. That is, OH are on Fridays 13:00-15:00 except for the statutory holiday November 11, and the weeks when we are having a test on Thursday. Then OH are shifted to the previous Wednesday, 13:00-15:00.

APS: Tuesdays 15:30-16:30 and Fridays 12:00-13:00

IN BOTH CASES: OR BY APPOINTMENT

Note that this means what it says. For both JJM and APS you are not limited to the times listed, but you may need to make an appointment. If you email to ask for an appointment please be sure to state clearly the times you are available.

Course Description: In this course we shall discuss the notions involved in an elementary first order logic with identity. In particular, students will be expected to familiarize themselves with:

- a) the logical form of ordinary language sentences, and the most useful way of symbolizing such sentences;
- b) decision procedures for truth functional sentences;
- c) natural deduction derivations in sentential and quantificational logic with identity;
- d) some elementary metatheoretical concepts of, and proofs about, sentential logic, including the notion of a model, soundness, and completeness.

Further details will be posted on D2L.

At some point toward the end of term 15-20 minutes at the beginning of class will be used for student surveys.

Evaluation

Marks will be based on a combination of in-class tests and assignments. There will be no Registrar-scheduled final examination.

- a) Tests: There will be four in-class tests, on September 29, October 27, November 24, December 8. The first test will be worth 16% of the final mark, the second and third will be worth 25% each, the fourth will be worth 10% of the final mark. (It is a University regulation that in-class tests in the final two weeks of term may not have a total value greater than 10% of the final mark.) Students may bring into each of the tests as an aide memoire a single sheet of normal sized (8 1/2" x 11") paper, containing any material they feel will be useful. You may write or print on both sides of the paper. No other notes, books, etc. are allowed. On your tests please write as legibly as time allows and if possible use a pen, not a pencil. (Simply cross out material you do not wish to have considered—there is no need to erase it.) During the in-class tests please be sure not to sit next to your usual seat-mates.
- b) Assignments: There will be 8 assignments each worth 3% of the final mark for a cumulative total of 24%. Assignment totals ending in .5 or above will be raised to the next whole number; totals ending in .4 or below will be lowered to the nearest whole number. This applies only to the total assignment mark, not to the marks of individual assignments. Assignments are due by 4:00 p.m. on the following dates: September 23 (A1), October 7 (A2), October 14 (A3), October 21 (A4), November 4 (A5), November 9 (A6), November 18 (A7), and December 2 (A8). Note that A6 is due on Wednesday, November 9, not on Friday, November 11. There is a clearly marked box in the hallway of the Philosophy Department (SS 12th floor) where assignments for this course may be handed in. Assignments may also be handed in to the tutor or instructor in any preceding class or tutorial. Note that it is important to keep up with your assignments. If you are having trouble with a particular assignment, see your tutor, instructor, or PASS assistant: don't just skip it!

There is no particular component of the course in which a pass is essential if the student is to pass the course as a whole. The evaluation method cannot be altered once the term has begun. As noted above it is a University regulation that in-class tests in the final two weeks of term cannot be worth a total of more than 10% of the final mark. There will be no Registrar scheduled final exam.

Grading Method

Numerical and grade equivalents in the course are as follows: A+ = 90-100 A = 85-89; A- = 80-84; B+ = 75-79; B = 70-74; B- = 65-69; C+ = 60-64; C = 55-59; C- = 50-54; D+ = 45-49; D = 40-44; F = 0-39.

Policy on Late Assignments

No late assignments save in exceptional circumstances and after consultation with the tutor. Emailed submissions are not accepted: hard copies only.
