Course Description

This is an introductory course in formal logic. The formal languages of truth functional logic (TFL) and first order logic (FOL) will be introduced along with proof procedures for these logics.

Course Learning Outcomes

Formal logic aims to understand how statements of natural languages (e.g., English) acquire their truth values, and why in some cases the premises of an argument entail its conclusion and why in other cases they do not. To acquire an understanding of these matters, we will learn the formal languages of TFL and FOL as well as how to symbolize statements of English into these formal languages. We will also learn how to test for semantic properties, such as validity, consistency and equivalence, by using the proof procedures of natural deductions and truth trees.

Course Assessment

The final grade will be determined by 2 in class tests, 2 assignments and 3 twenty-four hour tests. Policy on missed tests, late take home tests, and late assignments: zero will be the assigned grade unless a university approved justification is promptly provided. The assignments will be posted on D2L and a hard copy can be submitted either in class or into a drop-box located in the department of philosophy (12th floor Social Sciences Building) by 4:00 PM on the due date. The take home tests will be available on D2L and will be submitted on D2L using Dropbox. You will be required to submit a single PDF file. You will be given twenty-four hours to submit your test from the time it is made available. Please make sure to take a screenshot the D2L submitted field when submitting work electronically. There is no registrar-scheduled final exam for this course.

Academic Accommodations

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations according to the University policies and procedures. The student accommodation policy can be found at ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf.

Students needing an Accommodation because of a disability or medical condition should communicate this need to Student Accessibility Services in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/procedure-for-accommodations-for-students-with-disabilities.pdf. Students needing an Accommodation in relation to their coursework or to fulfil requirements for a graduate degree, based on a protected ground other than disability, should communicate this need, preferably in writing, to their instructor.

Absence or Missed Course Assessments

Students who are absent from class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructors as soon as possible. Instructors may request that evidence in the form of documentation be provided. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, instructors may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test.
