REQUIRED TEXT: Philosophy of Religion (Any Edition), William L. Rowe, Wadsworth.

COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES: This course is an introduction to the philosophy of religion. We will examine some of the most central philosophical issues related to religion, including the content and conceptual difficulties regarding the notion of God, the nature and plausibility of arguments for and against the existence of God, the differences between faith and reason, the phenomenon of religious experience, and the problem of divine foreknowledge and human freedom. The primary objective of the course is to provide exposure to the depth, complexity (and often perplexity) of philosophical inquiry about religion, and to equip students with the skills to engage in such inquiry. Writing and the grading thereof is a factor in the evaluation of your work for this course.

COURSE WORK AND EVALUATION: The course work will consist of two in-class exams, a quiz, and a term paper (4-6 pages). There will be no Registrar-scheduled final exam. A passing grade on any particular component of the course is not essential to pass the course as a whole. Writing and the grading thereof is a factor in the evaluation of your work for this course.

COURSE POLICIES: I expect that the course will proceed in accordance with the course schedule. However, unforeseen contingencies, e.g., particular difficulty or ease with a section of the course, may necessitate changes in the content covered on the dates listed on the schedule.

Attendance

Attendance is not mandatory, but I do expect you to make every effort to be present at each session. Excepting extraordinary circumstances, I expect advance notice that you will be unable to attend class for an exam or to submit an assignment by the due date.

How to Contact Me

You can see me during my office hours or make an appointment to see me at some other time. If you wish to make an appointment, please contact me directly by telephone or E-mail. Perhaps the best way to reach me is through E-mail, which I typically check a number of times each day. I should also mention that I encourage you to offer me feedback about any aspect of the course — it is important for me to know how you think things are going, and to be flexible enough to adjust to your needs.

Missed and Late Course Work

Medical or other formal documentation will be required for a missed exam. Without suitable documentation, you will not be permitted to re-schedule the exam, and you will receive a grade of zero. Late take-home finals will lose 25% of their value each day (or portion of the day) that they are late unless accompanied by medical or other documentation. After four days, late take-homes without documentation will not be accepted and you will receive a score of zero.

Academic Honesty

Cheating or plagiarism on any assignment or examination is regarded as an extremely serious academic offence, the penalty for which may be an F on the assignment, an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw from the University. See the relevant sections on 'Academic Misconduct' in the current University Calendar. Intellectual honesty requires that your work include adequate referencing to sources. Plagiarism occurs when you do not acknowledge or correctly reference your sources. If you have questions about correct referencing, consult your instructor.

Academic Accommodation

Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services. SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For more information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit <http://www.ucalgary.ca/access/>. Students who require accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their instructor. The full policy on student accommodations is available at http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy_0.pdf
