

FACULTY OF ARTS
DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY

PHILOSOPHY 411 Lec 01 – Topics in the History of Philosophy
Topic #2: Seventeenth century proofs of God's existence

Winter Term 2011

Course Outline

Lectures: (M 3:00 - 5:30; SA 145)

Instructor: J. J. MacIntosh

Office: SS 1249

Phone: 403-220-3164

Email: macintos@ucalgary.ca

Three notes about Email

- (1) Students wishing to get in touch with me via email should ensure that "PHIL 411" or some other clearly identifying term occurs in the subject line. Otherwise there is a strong possibility that your message will be deleted unread as spam.
- (2) Should you change your email address during the term, please update this information online at your Student Centre as soon as possible. If you do not, and an email message is sent to the class, it will fail to reach you.
- (3) If you email me with a question which involves symbols, please submit the question as a pdf attachment – email tends to garble symbols.

Office Hours

Thursdays, 10:00-11:00 or by appointment. Note that this means what it says. You are not limited to Wednesdays 11-12, but you may need to make an appointment. If you email me to ask for an appointment, please be sure to tell me the times you are available.

Course Description

A consideration of various seventeenth century responses to, variations upon, and alternatives to, Descartes's ontological argument for God's existence. Among the authors we shall consider are: Descartes, Spinoza, More, Cudworth, Locke, Leibniz, Boyle, Bentley and Newton, Clarke, and a miscellany of minor writers. An outline of the authors to be discussed in detail and the class dates of such discussions will be posted separately on Blackboard.

At some point toward the end of term 15-20 minutes at the beginning of class will be used for the student surveys.

Required Texts

René Descartes: Meditations, Objections, and Replies

Most of the works we shall be considering are available on line. To access Early English Books Online from the university use <http://eebo.chadwyck.com/home>. To access EEBO from home use <https://login.ezproxy.lib.ucalgary.ca/login?url=http://eebo.chadwyck.com/home>.

Evaluation

- Marks will be based on two tests. Each test will be worth 50% of the final mark. The first test will be an in-class test on Feb. 28; the second will be a take home test, given out on April 4, due April 11 (no late submissions accepted). After the first test students may, if they wish, submit an optional term paper. The term paper mark will, if higher, replace the test mark for the purpose of calculating the final mark, unless the test mark was an F, in which case that mark will stand. Deadline (firm) for term paper: two weeks after the return in class of the test. A draft of the paper may be submitted (hard copy or email) up to a week before the due date: comments and suggestions for improvement will usually be available the next day. The final version (this also holds for the take home test) may be either a hard copy or an email submission or both. If your paper is submitted electronically please submit it as a Microsoft word document, or a pdf document. There will be no registrar-scheduled final examination. The optional term paper should be long enough to allow for an adequate discussion—a critical investigation of the considerations for and against a given position—of the topic with which the paper deals. In general, a length between 3,000 and 6,000 words would be appropriate for the optional term paper.
- A passing grade on any particular component of the course is not required for a pass in the course as a whole.
- We are asked by the University to "Indicate when writing and the grading thereof is a factor in the evaluation of the student's work. (See E.2 Writing Across the Curriculum statement.)" Writing and the grading thereof is indeed a factor in the evaluation of your work. Your writing should be clear, coherent, and to the point. Your arguments should be plainly set out. Notice that footnotes of the incomplete and unhelpful sort offered in "E.2 Writing Across the Curriculum" (at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/e-2.html>) will be evidence of insufficient scholarly acumen. You may wish to consult the short notes on writing a philosophy paper on the Philosophy Department's website for a more helpful way of giving references. These notes also mention the relation between writing and philosophical evaluation.

Grading Method

Your in class and take home tests, and your optional term papers will be graded on the standard university scale which ranges from A+ to F. Your mark may sometimes have a slash (/) in it, thus: B/B+. In such cases the first mark is the official mark, the second shows which end of the mark you are closer to. An A-/B+ is an A- at the lower end; an A-/A is an A- at the upper end. Letter grade marks will be averaged by using GPA numerical equivalents.

Spelling and grammar: More than five grammatical or spelling mistakes on any one page of an optional term paper or take home test will lead to the paper or test being returned for corrections before a mark is assigned. Corrections are due within two days of the return. Two examples of the same mistake count as two mistakes. Standard U. S. spellings (e.g., 'neighbor' for 'neighbour', 'center' for 'centre', 'theater' for 'theatre', etc.) are acceptable. Common mistakes in philosophy papers include: (1) misspellings of 'existence,' 'conceive,' 'argument,' and 'separate'; (2) the misuse of 'i.e.' for 'e.g.'; (3) the misuse of 'phenomena' and 'criteria' as singulars. They are plurals. The singulars are 'phenomenon' and 'criterion.' Finally there is (4) the increasingly common use of 'it's' as a possessive. Perhaps this almost ubiquitous error will become standard, but it has not done so yet, and just as we do not speak of "he's book," or "she's pen" so we should not refer to "it's colour." Like "he's" or "she's," "it's" is a contraction, not a possessive. Of course you should avoid sexist language. In particular, remember that 'man' and 'he' are not gender neutral, and that 'girl' is not an appropriate term for adult women. (No doubt these remarks will have little practical relevance for this class; I put them in mainly to ensure that they remain unnecessary.)

Policy on Late Assignments

No late submissions accepted save in exceptional circumstances. Procrastination, apathy, sloth, laziness, writer's block, pressure of other work, and most personal problems do not constitute exceptional circumstances: they are simply part of the human condition.

The following notes are provided by the University:

INTELLECTUAL HONESTY

Intellectual honesty is the cornerstone of the development and acquisition of knowledge and requires that the contribution of others be acknowledged. As a result, cheating or plagiarism on any assignment or examination is regarded as an extremely serious academic offence, the penalty for which may be an F on the assignment and possibly also an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw. The University Calendar states that plagiarism exists when:

- the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test;
- parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author;
- the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source; and/or
- a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted. Plagiarism occurs not only when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement, but also when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. A bibliography is insufficient to establish which portions of the student's work are taken from external sources; footnotes or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodation. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre, contact their office at 220-8237. Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. You are also required to discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of this course.

STUDENTS' UNION REPRESENTATIVE

The Faculty of Arts Representatives are Laura Golebiowski (arts1@su.ucalgary.ca), Bhuvana Sankaranarayanan (arts2@su.ucalgary.ca), Lara Schmitz (arts3@su.ucalgary.ca), and Vincent St. Pierre (arts4@su.ucalgary.ca).

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND PROTECTION OF PRIVACY (FOIP) ACT

The University of Calgary is under the jurisdiction of the provincial FOIP Act in all aspects of its operations as a publicly funded institution. The Department of Philosophy ensures the student's right to privacy by requiring all graded assignments, papers, and exams be returned to the student directly from the instructor unless other arrangements have been made in writing and approved by the Department Administrator.

SAFEGWALK: PROMOTING CAMPUS SAFETY AND AWARENESS

Twenty four hours a day, seven days a week, Safewalk volunteers walk people safely to their destination on campus. This service is free and available to students, staff, and campus visitors. Safewalks are done in male/female pairs. The volunteers walk anywhere on campus (including McMahon Stadium, Health Sciences, Student Family Housing, the Alberta Children's Hospital and the University LRT station). To request a Safewalk volunteer to walk with you, call 403-220-5333 (24 hours a day/seven days a week/365 days a year) or use one of the Help Phones located across campus (they are not just for emergencies).
