Course Description	Practical experience in acting; improvisation and introductory work from texts; the development of communication skills and personal acting creativity.
Course Overview	Drama 200 is an experiential, studio - based course designed to introduce the student to the craft of acting. The aim of Drama 200 is to enhance confidence and self-awareness in performance and to provide practical tools to develop the students' creativity, imagination and a skillful understanding of analysis techniques.
	The year of studio style classes will cover:
	Physical and Vocal warm ups/explorations
	Acting technique /improvisation/analysis
	Monologues
	Scene work
	Creative writing
	Ensemble and solo creation projects
Course Learning	By the completion of this course, successful students will be able to:
Outcomes	1. Be able to access the state of being necessary for acting work and exploration:
	present, open, aware, grounded and focused in the moment.
	2. Be able to perform and lead a basic physical and vocal acting warm-up
	3. Be able to responsibly participate with: collaborative groups, partners, ensemble members and actively support the culture of respect and inclusion in the studio environment

- 4. Be able to create and present dramatic works: collaboratively, in a dynamic ensemble, in a partnership and in solo work
- 5. Be able to discern and identify the difference between demonstrating/indicating versus truthful, embodied acting
- 6. Be able to choose appropriate scenes and monologues (no film or internet selections) for an audition. Know how to choose material that has potential for truthful and authentic connection.
- 7. Be able to skillfully reflect and articulate experiences based on experiential learning model both in verbal and written forms.
- 8. Be able to offer thoughtful and considered self- assessment and constructive feedback/observations to fellow students.
- Be able to integrate acting techniques and analysis in presentation work and have strong working knowledge of acting techniques and analysis methods and vocabularies.
- 10. Be able to engage fully in play and imaginative work.

Course Schedule:

The year of studio style components will cover:

Physical and Vocal warm ups/explorations (every class)

Acting technique /improvisation/analysis (every class)

Monologues (September- Fall Mid- Term)

Scene work (Mid- October to Fall Final and March- April))

Creative Writing/Collaborative Project(January)

Ensemble and solo creation projects (February- March)

Students will receive handouts with clear details, due dates, assessment criteria and instructions for each major assignment.

There are no formal examinations. Each student will receive a private mid-year and end of year assessment interview with the Instructor.

Journal

The journal is designed to provide a written record of class activities as well as the opportunity for self-reflection and clear articulation of discoveries within the work. The final journal paper will be a compilation of the term's discoveries and highlights presented in essay form. Please see Journal Handout for additional details.

Assessment Components

This is a full year course. The final grade is a combination of the grades from the Fall and Winter terms based on the following outline:

1) Participation	10%
2) Growth and Development	20%
3) Journal /Paper	10%
4) Mid-term Project	30%
5) Final Project	30%

Description: The journal assignment has two components.

Students will be expected to record daily class activities as well as their reflections on the work as the ongoing preparation for the final paper.

At the end of term, the student will write a compilation paper based on important discoveries, reflections and development throughout the term.

Although this assignment is worth only 10% of the term, the paper will have significant bearing on both the Participation and Growth and Development grades.

Growth and Development and Participation Assessment

The instructor will be observing and assessing the following:

- 1) Willingness and commitment to move forward in the work
- 2) Discipline, focus, risk taking, working from a growing sense of truth for the actor
- 3) Openness, consistency, preparation, diligence
- 4) Successful integration and application of learned skills
- 5) Generousity, respect for, and ability to work well with others and overall positive contribution to class discussions and activities

Assessment Expectations

Expectations for Writing:

Writing skills are important to academic study across all disciplines. Consequently, instructors may use their assessment of writing quality as a factor in the evaluation of student work. Please refer to the Undergraduate Calendar E.2 Writing Across the Curriculum policy for details.

Expectations for Attendance and Participation:

This course is developmental, experiential and often collaborative in nature and therefore attendance is mandatory. Please inform the instructor prior to the class in the event of extenuating circumstances or legitimate absence. Failure to attend class and/or tardiness will impact the participation standing. If for a medical emergency, the student must be late or absent from class, they MUST ADVISE THE INSTRUCTOR BY EMAIL OR PHONE CALL well before the start of class.

When absence affects a collaborative process, a more severe deduction will be made. Throughout the year, students will be required to rehearse outside of class time and attend theatre productions. Please be on time and ready to begin at the scheduled time.

Please refer to the Undergraduate Calendar E.3 Attendance for details.

Please Note:

- 1) Proper dress is mandatory. Please wear clothing that allows for complete freedom of movement. (No jeans, hats, or restrictive clothing)
- 2) Please bring writing materials- notebook and pen to each class.
- 3) No cell phone use in the classroom at any time.
- 4) Please bring a water bottle to class.
- 5) Much of the work will require bare feet.
- 6) Any problems or concerns should immediately be brought to the attention of the instructor. Students are encouraged to use the posted office hours whenever necessary.

Guidelines for Formatting Assignments

As noted in assignment handouts

Guidelines for Submitting Assignments

All assignments must be delivered by the student, in hard copy form to the instructor at the beginning of the class on the due date. An electronic copy should always be saved and available for re-submission if the necessity should present itself.

Late Assignments

No late work will be accepted except in the case of extenuating circumstances that have been brought to the attention of and agreed upon by the instructor well in advance of the due date. Grade deduction will be at the discretion of the instructor base on the circumstances.

Criteria That Must Be Met To Pass

Consistent and punctual attendance, respectful and active participation in all course components and passing grades in each assignment will ensure a passing grade. Students are encouraged to go well beyond these minimum requirements and take full advantage of all opportunities for growth and learning potential.

Grading Scale

For the course as a whole, letter grades should be understood as follows, as outlined in the section F.2 of the Undergraduate Calendar for 2015-2016:

No audio or video recording of any kind is allowed in class without explicit permission of the Instructor.  ACADEMIC INTEGRITY, PLAGIARISM   The University of Calgary is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect. Students are referred to the section on plagiarism in the University Calendar (ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-2.html) and are reminded that plagiarism—Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it—is an extremely serious academic offence. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. Readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. This includes assignments submitted in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media, and material taken from such sources. Please consult your instructor or the Student Success Centre (TFDL 3rd Floor) if you have any questions regarding how to document sources.  COPYRIGHT
