Course Description:

This course is an introduction to the art of orchestration with particular attention to scoring for strings, winds, and brass. Students will study scoring techniques for individual instruments, instrumental choirs, and large ensembles.

Learning Outcomes:

By the completion of the course, successful students will: know the ranges, registers, and idiomatic attributes of string, wind, and brass instruments; know the correct notations for various approaches to articulation; understand the basic principles of scoring including foreground, middleground and background, reinforcement and masking, and stylistic preferences; know how to professionally notate a score and extract parts for instrumental performance.

Text:

Adler, Samuel The Study of Orchestration

Assessment:

Assignments (weekly)	25%
Scoring projects (4 @10%)	40%
Mid-term test	15%
Final examination	20%

Students in the course will be required to complete 4 scoring projects: string quartet, woodwind ensemble, brass ensemble, and orchestra. The completed project will consist of both a score and the extracted parts. Because of the large enrollment in this course, the reading sessions for these projects may take place both in and out of the regularly scheduled class time. Students who are unable to attend the additional sessions who have not had their materials read in class will nonetheless submit both the score and the parts for their projects to the instructor for grading. All assignments, scores and parts must be clearly and legibly notated according to the standards of the music profession as outlined in the text for the course. Any submitted materials failing to meet these standards will not be accepted by the instructor or placed before performers at reading sessions. Computer realized materials must be properly edited.

All assignments will be graded under the following conditions:

Submitted early - as marked plus half a grade point

Submitted on time - as marked

Submitted late by one week or less - as marked minus a grade point

No assignments will be accepted after one week. Extensions will be granted for compellingly valid reasons (such as illness, etc. Contact the instructor in advance of the deadline.) To be considered on time, assignments must be submitted in class or by 4:00 in the SCPA office on the due date. Note: Scoring projects are not subject to these conditions. The score and parts must be submitted at the time of the reading.

All assignments and test will be marked according to the following criteria: accuracy, clarity and musicality. Certain exercises will have correct answers, others may require students to exercise musical judgment, based upon an awareness of musical style, and others may require students to use musical materials in a creative manner.

Grading:

Demonstrate excellence (superior performance, showing comprehensive understanding of the subject matter)

A+ 97-100 A 93-96 A- 90-92

Achieve a good result (clearly above average, showing generally complete knowledge of the subject matter)

B+ 85-89 B 80-84 B- 75-79

Achieve a satisfactory result (basic understanding of the subject matter)

C+ 70-74 C 65-69 C- 60-64

Demonstrate minimal understanding of the material (marginal performance, insufficient preparation for courses in the same subject)

D 50-59

Fail

F 0-49

Note: Assignments that are not submitted as above receive a zero.

Dates

Mid-term test	March 2
Projects	As announced in class
Final examination	As scheduled by the Registrar

Listening

A complete understanding music in any course can only be accomplished through careful listening. Attending concerts is the best means of acquainting oneself with music. Recordings of the excerpts in the text can be found on the University of Calgary Library. Note: Attendance at the CPO Reading Session is mandatory (March 14 10-12:30)

Because listening requires awareness, attention and memory, laptops or any other electronic devices are not allowed in class.

Plagiarism

Students are encouraged to discuss assignments with their colleagues with the aim of fully understanding the materials in the course. However, in the event that two or more students submit exactly the same solutions to all of the questions on an assignment (where it is obvious that one person must have copied from another), both papers will be considered in contravention of the University's policy regarding Academic Integrity and will be reported to the Associate Dean of the Faculty of Arts for disciplinary action.

Academic accommodation	Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS); SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit ucalgary.ca/access/ . Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor. The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy_0.pdf .
Academic integrity, plagiarism	The University of Calgary is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect. Students are referred to the section on plagiarism in the University Calendar (ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-2.html) and are reminded that plagiarism-- Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it—is an extremely serious academic offence. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. Readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. This includes assignments submitted in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media, and material taken from such sources. Please consult your instructor or the Student Success Centre (TFDL 3rd Floor) if you have any questions regarding how to document sources.

SCPA Claim Your Seat Program: Student Guidelines	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The Claim Your Seat (CYS) program, funded by the Students' Union Quality Money, allows all University of Calgary students to attend on-campus School of Creative and Performing Arts (Dance, Drama and Music) events free of charge. 2. Depending on the performance, there is a limited number of seats available for CYS. There is not a guarantee that tickets will be available for all CYS patrons for every performance, based on audience size, demand, etc. 3. CYS tickets are a privilege. If a student receives a ticket to attend a performance, it is expected that they will respect the value of the admission and attend the performance. 4. Process for students: On the date of the performance, from 45 minutes prior to 15 minutes prior to the performance start time, they arrive to the CYS table next to the Box Office and show their Unicaard. If students arrive after 15 minutes prior to the performance start time, they can go to the Box Office and purchase a ticket at the student rate. Students should not go to the Box Office unless they are purchasing a ticket. 5. If students have a course requirement to attend a performance for a specific date, access to the tickets will be communicated by the instructor to University Theatre Services prior to the event. The best guarantee for a free ticket is to arrive early, up to 45 minutes prior to the performance start time. 6. Respect for the Front of House and theatre staff, performers and fellow patrons is an absolute requirement. Failure to comply with this will lead to being asked to leave the venue and could result in the revoking of CYS privileges.
