Learning resources: required readings, textbooks and materials	A Required Listening List will be posted on Desire2Learn (D2L) of audio tracks available on Spotify or Apple Music. Obtaining these audio tracks is required; they are not available at the library. There is no required textbook for this course. However, a List of Recommended Readings will be posted on D2L.
Learning Technologies and Requirements	There is a D2L site for this course which contains relevant class resources and materials (see d2L.ucalgary.ca). In order to successfully engage in their learning experiences at the University of Calgary, it is recommended that students have reliable access to technology allowing them to engage with D2L.
Prerequisites	There are no prerequisites for this course.
Course description	Selected topics examining World Music from a historical, sociological, analytical or performative perspective. Topics may include the study of a particular musical tradition and repertoire or the study of an instrument or performance practice that appears among many traditions. This course is designed to investigate the popular music of many of the world's cultures. Students will develop an understanding of musical style, the differing cultures' aesthetic viewpoints, and the music's function and context within those diverse societies. Students will encounter new musical expressions as well as the corresponding worldviews and philosophies that accompany them. As this course has no prerequisite, the material taught will be accessible to those students with no musical training or coursework.
Course learning outcomes	By the completion of this course, successful students will be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. aurally identify music from the cultures covered, 2. comment on cultural context and musical style, 3. describe a musical performance using culturally appropriate vocabulary, 4. describe the context of a musical performance, 5. investigate musical traditions outside of their native culture groups using objective and culturally sensitive methodology, and 6. understand music and its role within those cultures, 7. write an advanced essay describing a musical tradition, it's cultural and/or economic context, and its musical materials and structure.

Course schedule	Students will write two exams: a midterm exam and a Registrar-scheduled final exam. Students will submit two assignments, a bibliography and an essay.
