 - Analysis paper (1,000 words): 40%
 - Quizzes: 30 % (5 x 6 %)
 - Group work and report on in-class-discussion: Each day, students will be asked to discuss questions or complete assignments in groups of three to five students and to produce written statements of 250 words. These statements have to be uploaded to D2L by the end of the respective day. They will be graded solely based on completion (word count and the degree to which the response corresponds to the question). Please see the detailed instructions for each day on D2L. You will be automatically assigned a group as well as a Zoom link to meet with your group (information available on D2L).
 - Quizzes: The quizzes consist of multiple-choice questions and will test knowledge and understanding of the lectures and required readings of the respective day. Students complete quizzes on D2L. Quizzes have to be completed by September 11, 2020 (11:59pm).
 - Analysis paper (1,000 words [+/- 10 %]): Students write a paper in which they analyze one of the films shown in class to shed further light on a concept or question introduced in the lectures. Essays are due on September 25, 2020 (11:59 pm). The paper will be assessed based on the following criteria:
 - Construction of argument (20/40): Does the paper have a clear and specific thesis statement (5)? Does the paper have a meaningful introduction and conclusion (5)? Does the paper productively discuss counterarguments (5)? Are the transitions between sentences and paragraphs clear (5)?
 - Productive and nuanced work with primary and secondary sources (10/40): Does the paper provide evidence for its claims by clear references to primary and/or secondary sources (5)? INTEGRITY AND CONDUCT

All members of the University community have a responsibility to familiarize themselves with the Statement on Principles of Conduct, and to comply with the University of Calgary Code of Conduct and Non-Academic Misconduct policy and procedures (available at: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>).

Academic misconduct

1. Plagiarism is a serious offence, the penalty for which is an F on the assignment and possibly also an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw. Plagiarism exists when:

a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test);

b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author;

c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or

d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted."

Plagiarism occurs not only when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement but also when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. A bibliography is insufficient to establish which portions of the student's work are taken from external sources; footnotes or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose.

2. Cheating at tests or examinations includes but is not limited to dishonest or attempted dishonest conduct such as speaking to other candidates or communicating with them under any circumstances whatsoever; bringing into the examination room any textbook, notebook, memorandum, other written material or mechanical or electronic device not authorized by the examiner; writing an examination or part of it, or consulting any person or materials outside the confines of the examination room without permission to do so, or leaving answer papers exposed to view, or persistent attempts to read other students' examination papers.

3. Other academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, tampering or attempts to tamper with examination scripts, class work, grades and/or class records; failure to abide by directions by an instructor regarding the individuality of work handed in; the acquisition, attempted acquisition, possession, and/or distribution of examination materials or information not authorized by the instructor; the impersonation of another student in an examination or other class assignment; the falsification or fabrication of clinical or laboratory reports; the non-authorized tape recording of lectures.

4. Any student who voluntarily and consciously aids another student in the commission of one of these offences is also guilty of academic misconduct.
