Lectures: MW 1:00–1:50 Education (EDC) 287
Discussion: F 1:00–1:50 Education (EDC) 287

This course is an introduction to the phonetics of the languages of the world. We will explore this broad topic by (primarily) employing phonetic transcription and acoustic analysis to look at speech cross-linguistically. Readings, lectures and homework exercises provide an extensive survey of the speech sounds of the languages of the world, and an introduction to the basic tools of phonetic science.

Practical training in phonetics is particularly valuable for professions in language education – whether foreign language education, English education, or ESL. Phonetic training also benefits students who are interested in human/computer interface technology, and students who are in training for certification as speech pathologists or audiologists. Of course, students who major in linguistics should take phonetics.

Note on departmental grade requirement: a student may not register in any linguistics course unless a grade of at least C- has been achieved in each prerequisite for that course. The prerequisite for this course is linguistics 201.

All lecture notes, handouts and homework exercises—along with updated versions of this syllabus—will be posted to the course website. Please check it on a regular basis if you are interested in having access to these materials.

Textbook

Peter Ladefoged and Keith Johnson (2011), A Course in Phonetics, 6th ed. Boston: Wadsworth.

Henning Reetz and Allard Jongman (2009), Phonetics: Transcription, Production, Acoustics and Perception, Chichester, UK: Wiley/Blackwell.

Both of these textbooks are optional (but highly recommended!) for this course. Any further readings will be announced and made available during the course of the semester.

Discussion sessions

It is relatively easy to learn the basic principles of phonetics (and phonetic transcription), but you will only become better at working with those principles through practice. Lots and lots of practice. Therefore, each Friday will be devoted to a review and application of the material covered during the lecture sections that week. During these discussion sessions you will have an opportunity to practice your skills at phonetic transcription, work on in-class phonetic analysis projects, and to discuss the reading(s).

Grading

The course grade will be based on your performance on homework exercises, production exercises, a production exam, quizzes, course participation, a midterm exam and a final exam.

Homework will consist primarily of transcription practice and acoustic analysis exercises. I will expect you to complete these assignments independently, outside of class. Materials for the transcription exercises will be made available from the course website. (If you do not have an internet connection, please let me know, and I will provide you with the transcription materials on CD.)

Late homeworks will only be accepted in cases of documented medical or family emergencies.

Participation grades will primarily be based on the completion of assignments in and for each Friday discussion section. Since these assignments will be discussed in class, points will not be taken off if honest (independent) effort yielded incorrect results. However, points will be taken off if an assignment is incomplete or carelessly done.

In borderline cases, class participation in the traditional sense may be used when assigning final grades.

Production Exercises. Over the course of the semester, you will be expected to learn how to produce the various sounds of the International Phonetic Alphabet. I will assign production exercises to test your ability to produce the sounds that have been presented in class. You will be responsible for making recordings of yourself producing these sounds and sending the sound files to me for grading purposes. If you do not own a computer with which you can record yourself, you may use the facilities of the Phonetics Lab (see below) to do so.

I will provide you with more details regarding the production exam as the semester proceeds.

Quizzes. Occasional, in-class quizzes will be given during the semester. These quizzes will be announced at least one lecture period ahead of time.

Exams. The final exam will be cumulative. Make-up exams will not be given except in the case of dire, documented medical emergencies.

These components of the coursework will be weighted as follows in determining your final grade:

Homework exercises:	15%
Participation:	15%
Production exercises:	10%
Quizzes:	5%
Midterm exam:	25%
Final exam:	25%
Production exam:	5%

The grading scale for the course will be as follows:

$97\% \leq A+$	$71 \leq C+ < 75$
$92 \leq A < 97$	$66 \leq C < 71$
$88 \leq A- < 92$	$62 \leq C- < 66$
$84 \leq B+ < 88$	$58 \leq D+ < 62$
$79 \leq B < 84$	$50 \leq D < 58$
$75 \leq B- < 79$	$F < 50$

Please note that I do not round up in calculating final grades.

Resources

1. The Department of Linguistics Phonetics Lab is located in Education 259 (phone: 220-3598). The lab is set up to make high quality acoustic recordings of speech, which you are more than welcome to use for your production exercises for this class. If you would like to use the resources of the Phonetics Lab at any time, please contact me or the TA to set up an appointment.

2. Sound files and exercises from A Course in Phonetics (one of the textbooks for this class), may be found on the web at:

<http://www.phonetics.ucla.edu/course/contents.html>

3. Additionally, helpful sound materials may be found here:

<http://www.phonetics.ucla.edu/vowels/contents.html>

4. Doulos SIL is a freely available phonetics font for your computer. You may download it from this weblink:

http://scripts.sil.org/cms/scripts/page.php?site_id=nrsi&id=DoulosSIL_download

Although it is not necessary to do so, you are encouraged to use your computer—and this font—in writing up homework assignments for this class.

5. Praat is a great, freely available software package for phonetic analysis. Among (many) other things, you may use Praat to record, edit and play sound files on your computer. Praat is available for download at:

<http://www.fon.hum.uva.nl/praat/>

6. Just for (educational) fun: I have a homemade IPA Scrabble set, which you are welcome to borrow at any time. All you have to do is ask!

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND PRIVACY ACT (FOIP)

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act was enacted by the Alberta Legislature on June 1, 1994. The Act is intended first of all to allow any person the right of access to the records in the custody and under the control of a public body although this right is subject to limited and specific exceptions. The Act also includes a strong right to privacy component, allowing individuals to control the manner in which a public body collects personal information, to control the use that a public body may make of the information, and to control the disclosure of that information by a public body. It also allows individuals the right of access to personal information about themselves held by a public body and the right to request corrections to that information.

PLAGIARISM AND ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course, when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

1. the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
2. parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
3. the whole work (e.g. an essay) is copied from another source, and/or
4. a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted. Students are encouraged to work together in preparing homework assignments. However, unless noted otherwise in writing, students must write up their own answers for submission of the assignment. Failure to do so constitutes plagiarism.

Plagiarism is an extremely serious academic offence. Possible penalties for plagiarism include; failing the assignment, failing the course, disciplinary probation, suspension, or expulsion. Any student who voluntarily and consciously aids another student in the commission of plagiarism is also guilty of academic misconduct.

For more information on academic misconduct and related UofC regulations please consult the Student Misconduct web pages in the on-line University Calendar. These can be found at <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html>

EMERGENCY EVACUATION / ASSEMBLY POINTS

The University of Calgary is committed to creating a safe and healthy living and learning environment. The health and safety of our employees, students and the general public are the highest priority of the University of Calgary's Emergency Management Program. During times of emergency, Assembly Points have been identified across campus. These areas have been selected as they are large enough to hold a significant number of people and will provide an evacuated population access to washroom facilities and protection from the elements. Assembly points are also designed to establish a location for information updates:

- from the emergency responders to the evacuees; and
- from the evacuated population to the emergency responders.

Please familiarize yourself with the Emergency Assembly Points listed here:

And the Emergency Instructions listed here: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/emergencyplan/node/28>

SAFE WALK INFORMATION

Twenty four hours a day and seven days a week Safewalk volunteers walk people safely to their destination on campus. This service is free and available to students, staff and campus visitors.

Requesting Safewalk volunteers to walk with you is easy!

- Call 403-220-5333 (24 hours a day/seven days a week, 365 days a year)
