DESCRIPTION

This course will acquaint students with works of major Russian writers of the end of the 19th -- the beginning of the 20th century, the artistic period called the 'Silver Age of Russian Art.'

Students will read short stories and poems in Russian. They will analyze fictional texts written by influential Russian authors Valerii Brusov, Konstantin Balmont, Viacheslav Ivanov, Andrei Bely, Alexander Blok. A special emphasis will be made on investigation of relationship between politics and aesthetics.

Knowledge of Russian is necessary, although the course is conducted mainly in English.

Students will have a choice to write their assignments and papers in Russian or English.

This course may not be repeated for credit.

Prerequisites: RUSS 303 and RUSS 355 or RUSS 317, or consent of the Department.

OBJECTIVES

The goal of the course is twofold. Students will develop a competence in reading and understanding original fictional texts in Russian. This will heighten their overall knowledge of the Russian language, help them to develop sensitivity to different styles, and to understand linguistic expressions which characterize Russian poetry of the Silver Age.

Faculty of Arts

School of Languages, Linguistics, Literatures and Cultures

They will also acquire deeper knowledge of the main trends in Russian literature of the time: break with poetic traditions of the 19th century, concentration on musicality of the words, emphasis on poetic symbols, great interest to theory of poetic production.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

1. Plagiarism is a serious offence, the penalty for which is an F on the assignment and possibly also an F in the course, academic probation, or requirement to withdraw. Plagiarism exists when:
 - a) the work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test);
 - b) parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author;
 - c) the whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or
 - d) a student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted." Plagiarism occurs not only when direct quotations are taken from a source without specific acknowledgement but also when original ideas or data from the source are not acknowledged. A bibliography is insufficient to establish which portions of the student's work are taken from external sources; footnotes or other recognized forms of citation must be used for this purpose.

2. Cheating at tests or examinations includes but is not limited to dishonest or attempted dishonest conduct such as speaking to other candidates or communicating with them under any circumstances whatsoever; bringing into the examination room any textbook, notebook, memorandum, other written material or mechanical or electronic device not authorized by the examiner; writing an examination or part of it, or consulting any person or materials outside the confines of the examination room without permission to do so, or leaving answer papers exposed to view, or persistent attempts to read other students' examination papers.

3. Other academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, tampering or attempts to tamper with examination scripts, class work, grades and/or class records; failure to abide by directions by an instructor regarding the individuality of work handed in; the acquisition, attempted acquisition, possession, and/or distribution of examination materials or information not authorized by the instructor; the impersonation of another student in an examination or other class assignment; the falsification or fabrication of clinical or laboratory reports; the non-authorized tape recording of lectures.

4. Any student who voluntarily and consciously aids another student in the commission of one of these offences is also guilty of academic misconduct.

DISABILITIES AND ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations. Students with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre should contact their office at 220-8237. Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. Students also required to discuss their needs with the instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of this course.

WRITING ACROSS THE CURRICULUM

Writing skills should cross all disciplines. Students are expected to do a substantial amount of writing in their courses and, where appropriate, instructors can and should use writing and the grading thereof as a factor in the evaluation of student work. The services provided by the Writing Centre in the Effective Writing Office (<http://www.efwr.ucalgary.ca/>) can be utilized by all undergraduate and graduate students who feel they require further assistance.
