DESCRIPTION

A comprehensive course for students with no prior knowledge of Spanish, focused on listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills having to do with immediate needs in everyday situations. Emphasis on intercultural awareness of Spanish-speaking cultures.

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course, students will increase their skills in listening comprehension, speaking, reading, writing, and cultural awareness and will be able to:

1. Exchange essential information in basic oral and written conversations and presentations.
2. Read and understand short, simple texts.
3. Write simple paragraphs about themselves and others.
4. Demonstrate limited control of the present indicative tense.
5. Demonstrate awareness of Spanish-speaking cultures.

OUTCOMES

Outcomes in language courses are usually measured in terms of five basic skills:

Listening: You will understand, at least partially, audio and video material such as that which accompanies the textbook. However, in a simple face-to-face conversation, misunderstanding of both the main ideas and details can still arise on a fairly regular basis.

Speaking: You will be able to ask and answer simple questions using a very limited vocabulary concerning immediate surroundings; you are able to introduce yourself and talk about likes and dislikes, express plans and obligations and talk about everyday activities. However, you are not able to engage effectively in prolonged interactions with native speakers.

Reading: You will be able to understand the main ideas in simple authentic material (brochures, advertisement, schedules, and short newspaper articles) and to extract information from them by applying some reading strategies (identifying cognates, scanning, dealing with unfamiliar words, predicting, and activating background knowledge).

Writing: You will be able to write simple texts, such as e-mails, complete sentences and short paragraphs descriptions, to give information about yourself and to describe and narrate events grounded in personal experience.

Culture: You are able to understand some of the significant differences between Hispanic cultures and your own culture, in terms of behavior, attitudes, and values. You have an awareness of language as an essential element of culture.

School of Languages, Linguistics, Literatures and Cultures

These outcomes align with the three modes of communication, which will be emphasized in this course:

- Interpretive (listening and reading)
- Interpersonal (conversational speaking and writing)
- Presentational (prepared speaking and writing)

- Attendance expectations.

Your attendance is expected. For you to do well in the course and learn Spanish, you must participate actively in every session. This includes the lab as well. Some class sessions may be offered asynchronously, and if so you will be given plenty of notice of this along with deadlines to complete the work on your own at home.

- Class etiquette.

Please show up on time to class and leave when class ends. Participate actively in the course and follow the instructions of your instructor. If the class session is asynchronous, please follow the instructions provided and meet all deadlines.

- Guidelines for Zoom meetings, and use of technology during class

Please give your full attention to the class and follow the instructions set out by your instructor. Participate actively, appropriately, and respectfully in all class discussions whether out loud or via

Faculty of Arts

School of Languages, Linguistics, Literatures and Cultures

chat including in the Zoom breakout rooms and when completing group projects. Please show up on time to class and leave when class ends. Turn your camera on at the beginning of class and wear appropriate clothing. Turn your camera off and mute when asked. Use the raise hand function in Zoom if you have a question or type it in the chat.

- Media policy in case of recording (for in person, blended, and online modalities)
The class sessions may be recorded and posted to D2L. You are not permitted to share these recordings with anyone not enrolled in the course.
- Course evaluation procedure (online via D2L)
Assessments will all be online via D2L and through the textbook's website.

ASSESSMENT

Active Participation and homework: 9%
Individual Small Projects (written and oral) (3 x 7%): 21%
Chapter Tests (5 x 8%): 40%
Cultural Activities (5 X 4%) 20%
Tutorials/Labs (10 sessions): 10%
Total: 100%

There will be no final exam in this course.

Active participation and homework: Participating fully and completing all activities for any in person or asynchronous sessions is expected. Class sessions are the primary venue for practicing and speaking Spanish, and speaking is one of the skills that this course develops. As such, regular attendance and participation are key to success in this course. Participation includes following instructions given, speaking up during discussions and during activities and volunteering to ask and answer questions. Each instructor will provide guidelines on how to participate fully. Failure to abide by the class etiquette and guidelines listed above will result in a deduction to the participation grade. Each instructor will provide instructions for homework assignments. Homework assignments must be completed by the deadline and could involve but are not limited to D2L quizzes (for practice), audio/video recordings, listening practice, vocabulary practice, and grammar practice.

Chapter Tests: At the end of each chapter, a quiz will be completed in D2L that will involve, reading, writing, listening, vocabulary and grammar. You may use your textbook when taking these quizzes. Do not use an online translator. Do not consult with any other individuals.

Cultural Activities: These will accompany each chapter and will involve responding to the prompt in the D2L discussion forum in order to delve deeper into the cultural concepts presented in each chapter.

Individual Small Projects: These 3 small projects offer a chance to speak or write what has been taught in some chapters. The projects will be posted in the D2L discussion forum or turned in via the D2L Dropbox. More instructions will be provided for each project.

Guidelines for submitting assignments, and expectations for writing quality: Assignments must be submitted on D2L and/or through the textbook's online platform by the assigned deadline. The use of online translators is not permitted, and any assignments which utilize a translator will result in a grade of zero for that assignment. Instead, use what you have learned in the textbook and use an online dictionary.

Policy in case of missed or late assignments: If individual circumstances prevent a student from meeting a course deadline, it is the student's responsibility to contact the instructor as soon as possible if the student wishes to request credit for any missed online activities.

Tutorials/Labs: Labs meet once per week starting on September 12. Students are expected to attend their assigned lab, follow the instructions of their instructor, and complete all activities. These are designed to further skills developed in Spanish and review and practice the material covered in the course.

The timely completion of all assignments, in addition to respecting and following all procedures, is necessary to pass this course.

Table with 4 columns: Lab, M, W, F. Rows list Lab 1 through Lab 10 with corresponding dates for each day of the week.

GRADING SCALE

A+ = 100-96 A = 95-91 A- = 90-86 B+ = 85-81 B = 80-76 B- = 75-71
C+ = 70-67 C = 66-62 C- = 61-58 D+ = 57-54 D = 53-50 F= 49%

The official grade calculation (A=4, B=3, C=2, D=1) will be applied to calculate the final grade.

INTEGRITY AND CONDUCT

All members of the University community have a responsibility to familiarize themselves with the Statement on Principles of Conduct, and to comply with the University of Calgary Code of Conduct and Non-Academic Misconduct policy and procedures (available at: http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html).

Academic misconduct

Academic Misconduct refers to student behaviour which compromises proper assessment of a student's academic activities and includes: cheating; fabrication; falsification; plagiarism; unauthorized assistance; failure to comply with an instructor's expectations regarding conduct required of students completing academic assessments in their courses; and failure to comply with exam regulations applied by the Registrar.

(including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND PRIVACY (FOIP) ACT

Graded assignments will be retained by the Department for three months and subsequently sent for confidential shredding. Final examinations will be kept for one calendar year and subsequently sent for confidential shredding. Said material is exclusively available to the student and to the department staff requiring to examine it. Please see <https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/access-information-privacy> for complete information on the disclosure of personal records.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations according to the University policies and procedures listed below. The student accommodation policy can be found at:

<https://ucalgary.ca/student-services/access/prospective-students/academic-accommodations> .

Students needing an Accommodation because of a Disability or medical condition should communicate this need to Student Accessibility Services in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities:

<https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/university-policies-procedures/student-accommodation-policy>

Students needing an Accommodation in relation to their coursework or to fulfil requirements for a graduate degree, based on a Protected Ground other than Disability, should communicate this need, preferably in writing, to their Instructor or the Department Head/Dean or to the designated contact person in their Faculty.

FACULTY OF ARTS PROGRAM ADVISING AND STUDENT INFORMATION RESOURCES

Have a question, but not sure where to start?

The Arts Students' Centre is the overall headquarters for undergraduate programs in the Faculty of Arts. The key objective of this office is to connect students with whatever academic assistance they may require.
