Course Description:

This course will introduce students to the sociology of families from various sociological perspectives. It will be the goal of this course to provide students with a thorough grounding in both the theoretical and substantive issues in the sociological study of families and family life. Topics that we will explore include: defining a family, theoretical perspectives in the study of the family, the historical family, family organization, marriage and parenting, work and the family, family stress, the transitional family, and the changing Canadian family.

Course Objectives:

1. To provide a broad, introductory view of the sociological study of families, particularly Canadian families.
2. To introduce the student to both theoretical and empirical issues in the study of families.
3. To develop skills to critically examine, evaluate, and understand the social issues of the family which impact the student within his/her own life and within the larger society.

Course Requirements:

Students are required to complete two midterm exams and one Registrar-scheduled final exam. The midterm and final exams will consist primarily of multiple choice & T/F. All exams will be non-cumulative.

For midterm exams and the final exam, students will be responsible for all material covered in lectures (including guest speakers), required readings, and films. Please note that the lectures will include additional material that is not available in the readings.

If you miss a class, you are responsible for getting the lecture notes from another student. Therefore, finding a “student buddy” will be necessary. I will not distribute my lecture notes to students.

Deferrals:

If at all possible, you must provide advance notice to the instructor if you are unable to take a test or pass in an assignment or essay on time. All requests for deferral of a course component due to health reasons must be accompanied by written documentation as outlined in the University Calendar and should be obtained while the student has the physical or emotional problem rather than after recovery. Deferrals will be allowed in the following circumstances: illness, domestic affliction, or religious conviction. Travel arrangements and misreading of the syllabus are not valid reasons for requesting a deferred exam. Deferred exams will not be granted if it is determined that just cause is not shown by the student.

If you have missed a test for a legitimate reason, the instructor can require you to write a “make up” test as close in time to the original test as possible or can choose to transfer the percentage weight to another course component. If the instructor schedules a “make up” test for you, its date and location will be at the convenience of the Sociology Department.

Deferred Final Exam Application:

Please note that requests to defer a Registrar-scheduled final exam are dealt with through the Registrar’s Office. Further information about deadlines, and where paperwork should be taken, is available on this following site:

<http://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/deferredfinal>

Deferred Term Work Form:

Deferral of term work past the end of a term also requires a form to be filled out. It’s available at: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/files/registrar/defTW.pdf>

Once an extension date has been agreed between instructor and student, the form should be taken to the Faculty of Arts Program Information Centre (SS 110) for approval by an Associate Dean (Students).

Ethics Research:

Students are advised that any research with human subjects – including any interviewing (even with friends or family), opinion polling, or unobtrusive observation – must have the approval of the Department Ethics Committee. In completing course requirements, students must not undertake any human subject research without discussing their plans with the instructor, to determine if ethics approval is required.

Academic Misconduct:

Plagiarism, cheating and other academic misconduct are regarded as serious academic offences. Students are advised to consult the University Calendar, which presents a Statement of Intellectual Honesty and definitions and penalties associated with cheating, plagiarism, and other academic misconduct.

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) legislation disallows the practice of having students retrieve assignments from a public place, e.g. outside an instructor's office or the Department main office. Term assignments must be returned to the students individually, during class, or during the instructor's office hours. If a student is unable to pick up his/her assignment s/he may provide the instructor with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to be used for the return of the assignment.

Safewalk:

The University of Calgary provides a "safe walk" service to any location on Campus, including the L.R.T., parking lots, bus zones, and campus housing. For Campus Security/Safewalk call 220-5333. Campus Security can also be contacted from any of the "Help" phones located around Campus.

Academic Accommodation:

Students with a disability, who require academic accommodation, need to register with the Disability Resource Centre (MC 295, telephone 220-8237). Academic accommodation letters need to be provided to course instructors no later than fourteen (14) days after the first day of class. It is the student's responsibility to register with the Disability Resource Centre and to request academic accommodation, if required.

Handing in Papers Outside of Class, Return of Final Papers, and Release of Final Grades:

1. When students are unable to submit papers at class, they should make arrangements to hand in their papers directly to the instructor or teaching assistant rather than at the Sociology Department main office.
2. Final papers will not be returned through the Sociology Department main office. The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) legislation disallows the practice of having students retrieve assignments from a public place, (i.e. outside the instructor's office, the department office, etc.). Students who want their final papers returned by mail must attach a stamped, self-addressed envelope with the paper. Otherwise, final papers will only be available for pick-up during the instructor's office hours at the end of this term or the beginning of the next term.
3. Final grades are not posted by the Sociology Department. They are only available on-line.
